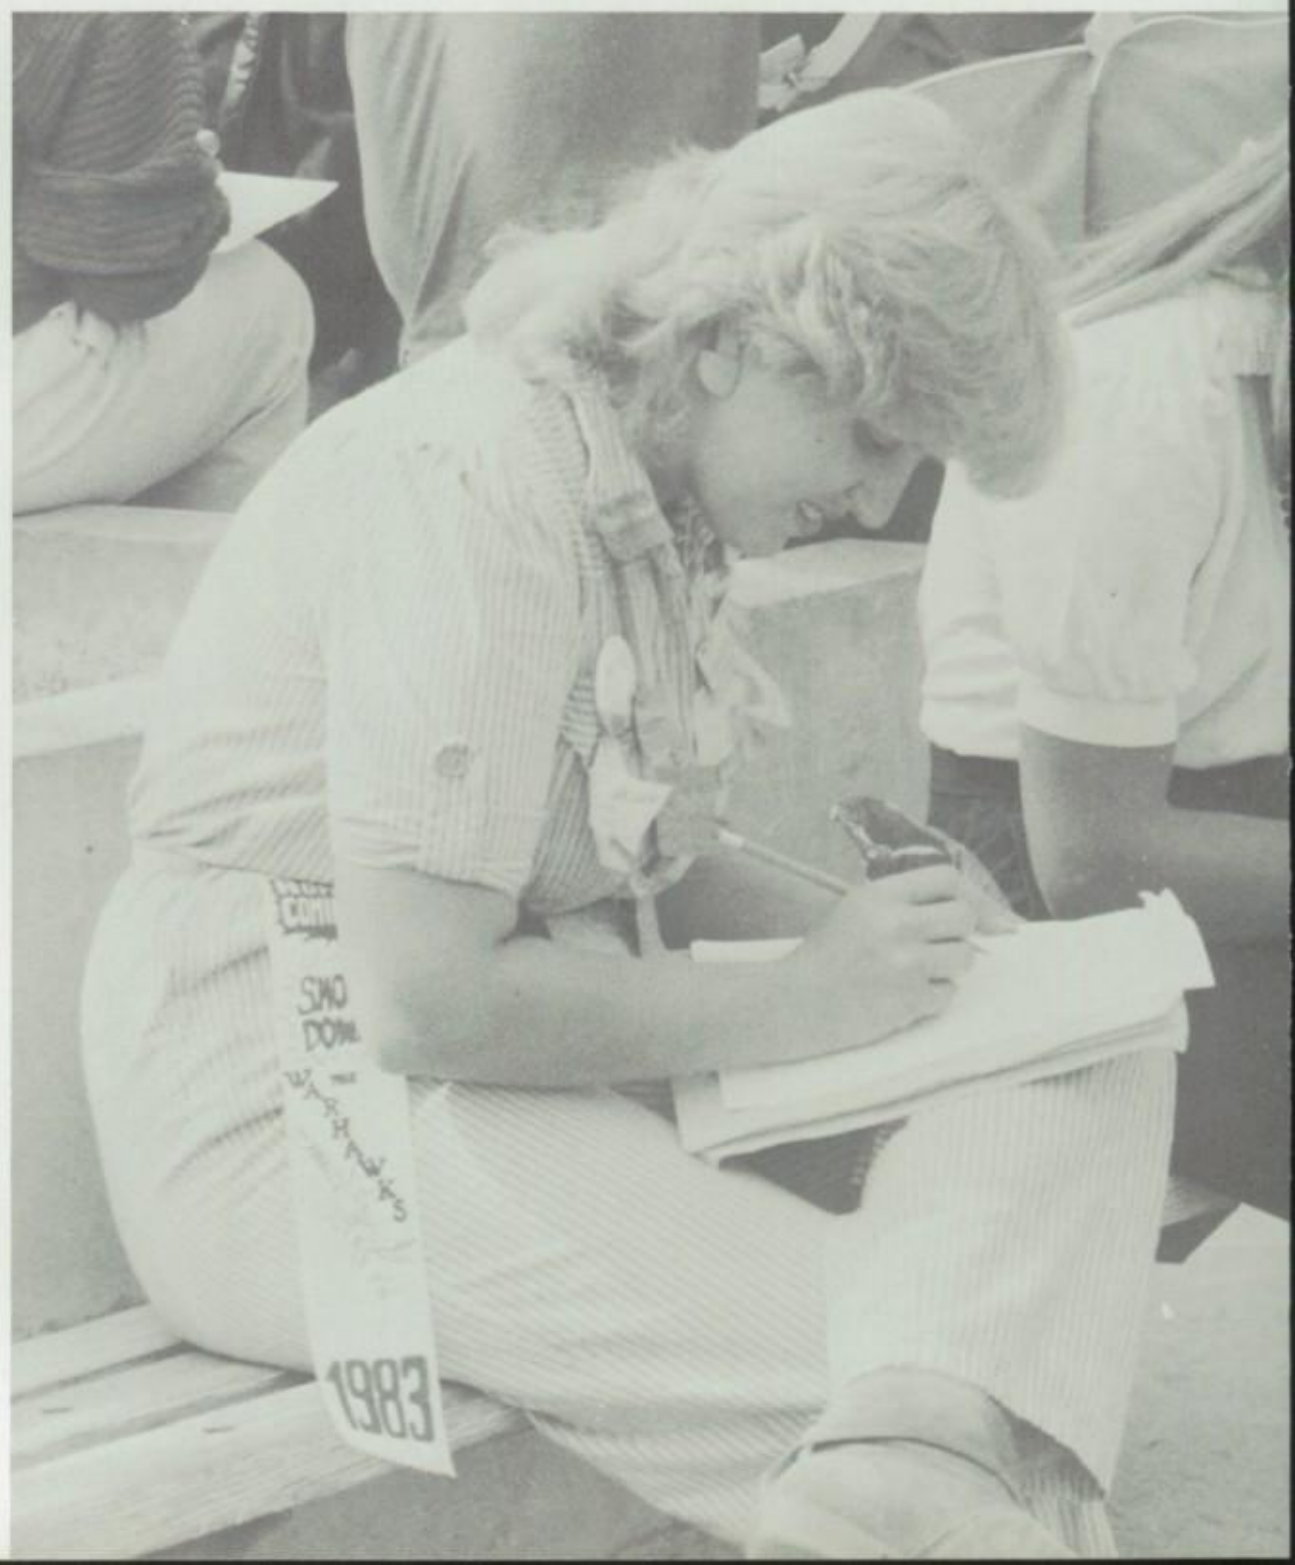
STEPHEN WATTS KEARNY
HIGH SCHOOL

CAROLINE VALLEJO desperately tries to stay on the cold ice for as long as she can during class competition.

ON THEIR WAY TO lunch Vicki McClure and Tami Souders talk about where they're going to sit.



DECIDING on who to vote for wasn't easy, as these two students found out while voting for class officers.

Treasures To Be Cherished

Passing through our years of high school, we come to realize that after graduation the further education we receive is in college. Looking at it more closely, if one wants to pursue a career, one must attend four years or more of college.

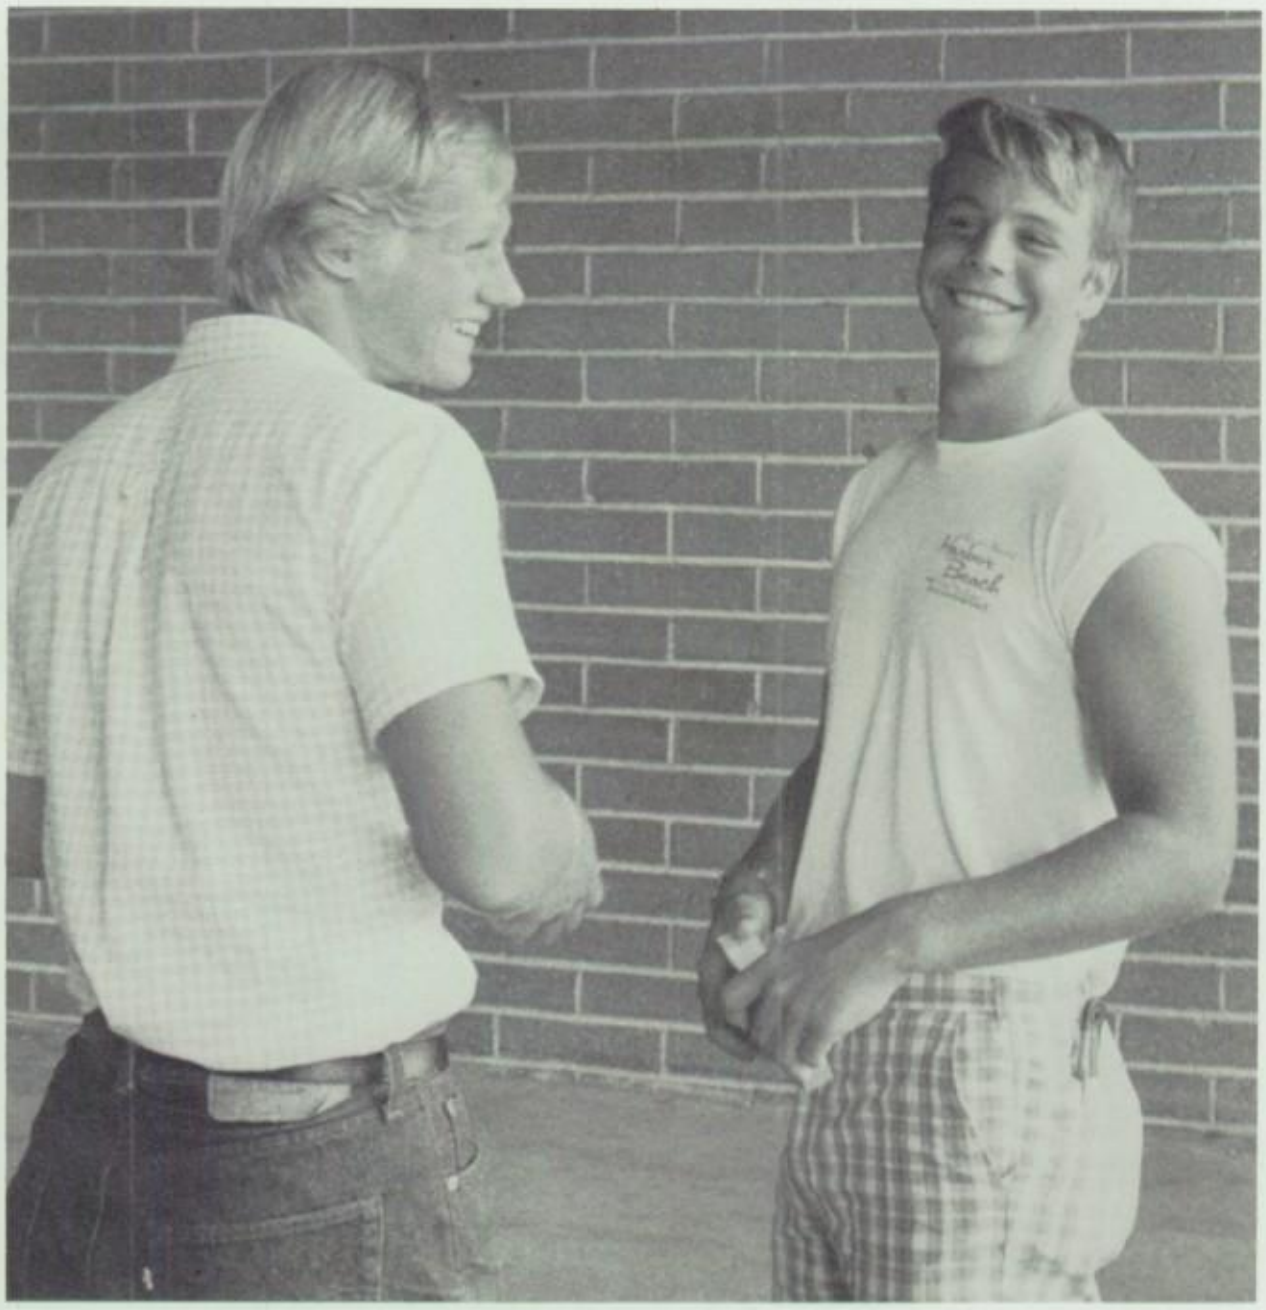
That is where high school comes in. There are plenty of classes that will inform you of the things you might need to start a career.

Between homework and jobs students must find time to prepare for their future. As you skim through these pages, notice all the ideas, choices, and education that the students here at Kearny have received during the last three years.

While most pages are on students themselves, some are on what makes high school so special. The people who have helped in molding these children into the young adults they are today.

PRESENTING THEIR SPIRIT, these proud Komet rooters make known the pride is still there.

LAUGHING OVER A good joke, Pasi Salonen and Dean Riddle share some good times at Gemco.



Treasures

Spending time with friends at school is one of the many things students will remember in their future. Between classes they had only enough time to say "hello" or "goodbye." Usually if students came early to school, or stayed late for some reason or another, they had time for catching up on homework or playing games with friends.

Really lunchtime provided most of the time to just relax and enjoy the friends they have made during their years in high school.

Sharing laughs with close friends, students used their lunch period as an escape from books and teachers. Whether they stayed here or went out for lunch, the feeling around the campus was filled with laughter and good times.

In the future years students will remember the good times they shared with friends.

SPENDING LUNCHTIME TOGETHER, Nhi Nguyen, Huong Nguyen, and Hwang Ping look at photos of themselves in their past high school days.

ON HIS WAY TO THE CAFETERIA, Dave Gilbert contemplates on what he'll eat for lunch.

ENJOYING SOME LAUGHS with good friends, Geraldine Coleman waits for the bell to ring at 6th period.

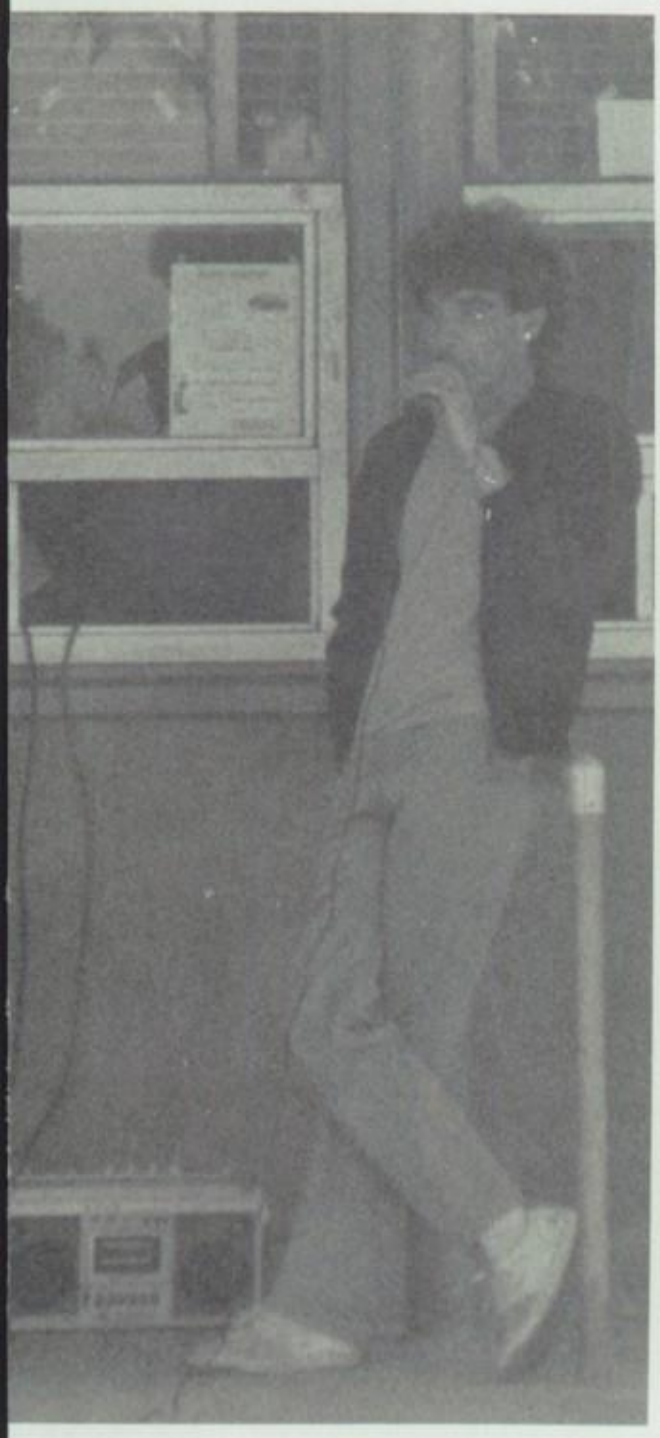
DURING HIS FREE TIME, Robert Russ catches up on some homework due in his next class.

BUSILY STUDYING for a test, Tien Thi Nguyen uses lunch as a time to read on in her book.

THINKING of what to put on her paper, Debbie Hanley writes down what she knows is the best answer.

ENJOYING what little time they have for lunch, these Kearny students catch up on the latest news.

STEVE WEST from 91X was a guest during 91X Day. Diane Raimondo and Irene Kimbrough listen patiently while Steve speaks about 91X radio.



Student Life

Finding inexpensive things to do in your spare time and doing them are two different things. In the following pages is a summary of a few items students managed to come up with.

Ranging from homecoming to fads or whatever it may be, students found school life a bit entertaining at times. After that last bell rang, kids were off like pirates after a hidden treasure. If homework was done, then there was no stopping the action after 2:30.

Students will never forget their lives at Kearny, so here is a section for those to always remember.

CONVERSING ON THE LATEST homework assignment, these group of students passed on the word.

Top row: Gina Cortez, Bridget Mesker, Paul Vandeveld, Myra Newman, Reyes Garcia, David Bennett, Lisa Bowen, and Melinda Santos. Seated: Anita Tongco and Maxine Espinoza.

DURING THE HOMECOMING Pep rally, king and queen candidates patiently await the final decision from Madeline Blando.

The Winner is ...

This is the moment we have all been waiting for, when the king and queen for Homecoming are finally announced. After two long weeks of voting was done, the king and queen were crowned during an extended lunch period. The crowning of new King Reyes Garcia and Queen Myra Newman took place in the big gym.

Also named in the Homecoming Court were Senior Attendants Anita Tongco and Maxine Espinoza, Junior Attendants Bridget Mesker and Lisa Bowen, Sophomore Attendants Melinda Santos and Gina Cortez.

During Homecoming lunchtime activities, many Alumni cheerleaders helped contribute to all the excitement of our traditional Homecoming Pep Rally. Alumni King Chanti Burks and Queen Marcella Alverez also played a big part as they crowned the new King and Queen.

HOMECOMING QUEEN AND KING Myra Newman and Reyes Garcia stand proud joyous while watching the crowd arise to their occasion.

AFTER BEING CROWNED, New Queen Myra Newman and attendants Anita Tongco and Lisa Bowen watch the alumni cheerleaders add spirit to the pep rally.

ECSTATICALLY HAPPY Reyes Garcia accepts the king's crown from former king Chanti Burks.

Show Us Your Spirit!

As Halloween drew near, so did our annual festivities for spirit week. Spirit week is a week full of activities that kick off our Homecoming game. During the week, many students, as well as teachers, took part in all the excitement. The first event of the week was Punk Rock Day. A few dedicated students and teachers took part in this day, but punk rockers were scarcely seen. Tourist day followed and many students were decked out in plaid shorts and Hawaiian print shirts. These tourists were seen throughout the day shuffling off to class or talking with other tourists. Popular and the third event of the week was Charger Day. Many diehard fans wore their gold and blue colors and paraphernalias to keep our spirit going. A new day added to spirit week was chic day. Students on this day dressed in chic clothes.

Rounding out the week was maroon and white day. On this day many wore maroon and white to cheer on and pep up our Homecoming game and festivities. On the following Monday Halloween was here and so were the many unusual and unique costumes worn by the many different students that dressed for this yearly favorite day of spirit week.

SHOWING OFF her school spirit. Janice Abrenica walks to her 6th period class dressed in Charger colors.

PARADING around their costumes, students show their spirit and their childhood fantasies.

DECKED out in Charger apparel Peter Anderson converses with Mrs. Peterson about his future career plans.

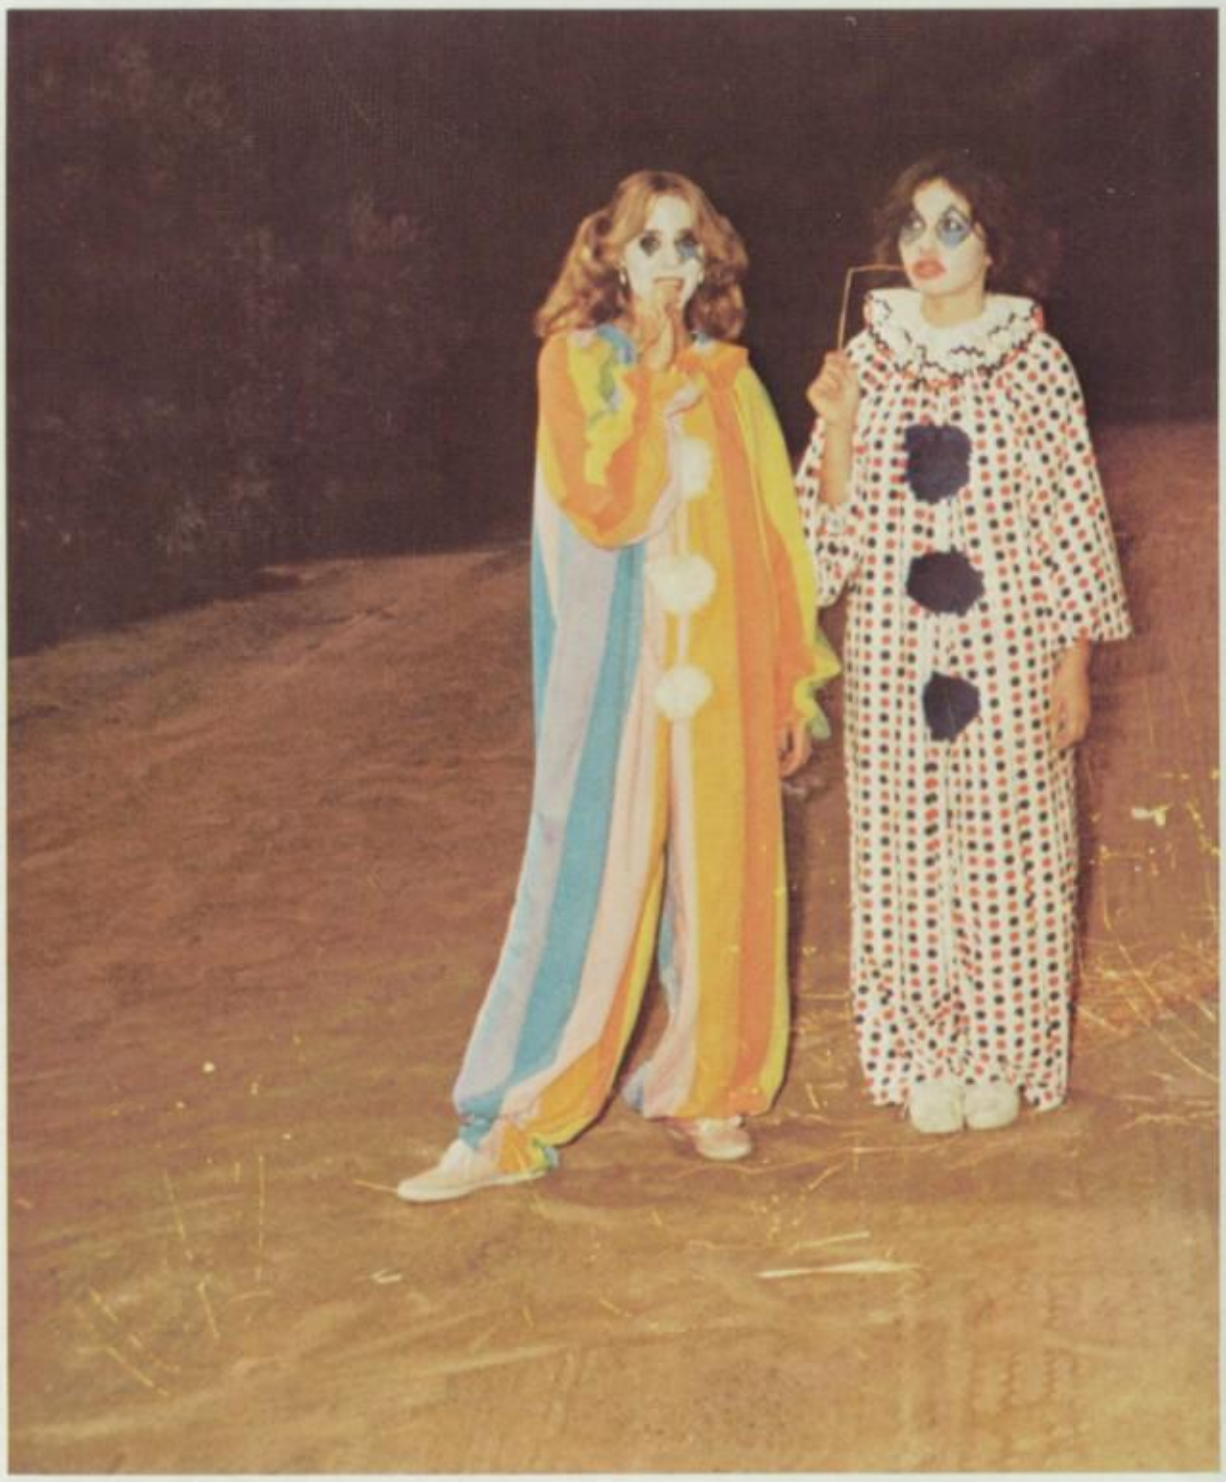
COMPETING ON ICE, the senior, junior and sophomore class student representatives look out to the audience with icy stares.

SITTING ALONE, after scaring away all the students, a monster watches people walk by.

TOURING AROUND the school Bernadette Santos stops and asks a friend about the lunchtime activities.

Komet Spirit Shines . . .

Football, floats, and cheerleaders were the exciting attractions that the dedicated students, teachers, parents, and alumni were treated to at the annual Homecoming game. With an enthusiastic turnout of Komet rooters, the football squad played hard and tough enough to hold the Warhawks of Madison until the final minutes of the game. Although the outcome was 21-7, in favor of the Warhawks, the score did not show the intensity and aggressiveness of the team's performance.



CLOWNING AROUND, Michelle Dykstra and Sophie Wagner show their spirit during the half-time float competition.

HAVING A FUN time with fellow students, the seniors show off their 3rd place "Looking Toward Summer '84" float.

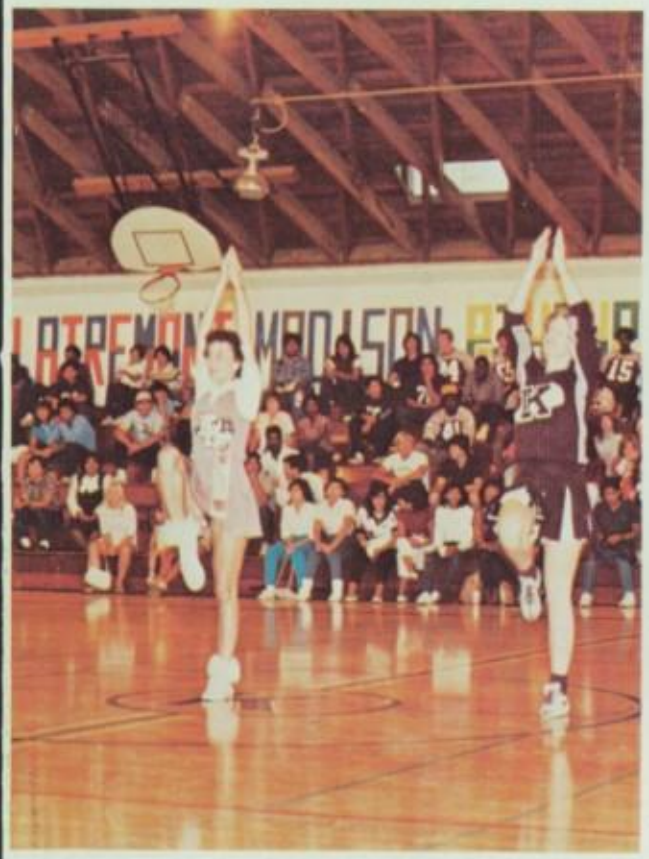
LINING UP for half-time entertainment the band gets ready to follow band leader Rudy Manahan.



81-82 CHEERLEADER Patricia Mauger and 80-81 cheerleader Misty Rydelski display their alumni spirit during the Homecoming lunchtime pep rally.

ECSTATIC OVER A TOUCHDOWN, fans express their spirited appreciation. This touchdown by Robert Ring bave us a 7-6 advantage before half-time.

DISCUSSING THEIR evening plans, Rosie Putnum and Dominique Roccoforte make a decision on where to go.

WATCHING IN AWE, students gaze as other teens dance during lunch.

Treasured Candids

Throughout this past year, yearbook photographers were seen roaming around our campus. With their cameras loaded and ready to go, they were out snapping photos of students in their everyday activities. Photos that will be treasured in the future. Many were caught rushing to class, trying to make it before the bell rang. Others were spotted hanging around, catching up on the latest gossip.

Although most were seen leaving during lunch, there was still a few who enjoyed a quick snack at our machines. While kids went to the library to do some researching for book reports and such, others sat on the grass reading a book or catching up on late homework.

EATING and enjoying their lunch, students lounge around in the senior patio.

Mary Adams and Karen McGee watch others during lunch while talking about the latest gossip.

AFTER FINISHING HER MEAL at Square Pan Pizza, Rachel Hayes prepares to return to school.

REVERSING ROLES, Gema Aguirre serves the faculty at the Cultural Foods Fair.

EATING ON THE RUN, Brad Strawn helps himself to a handful of delicious goodies.

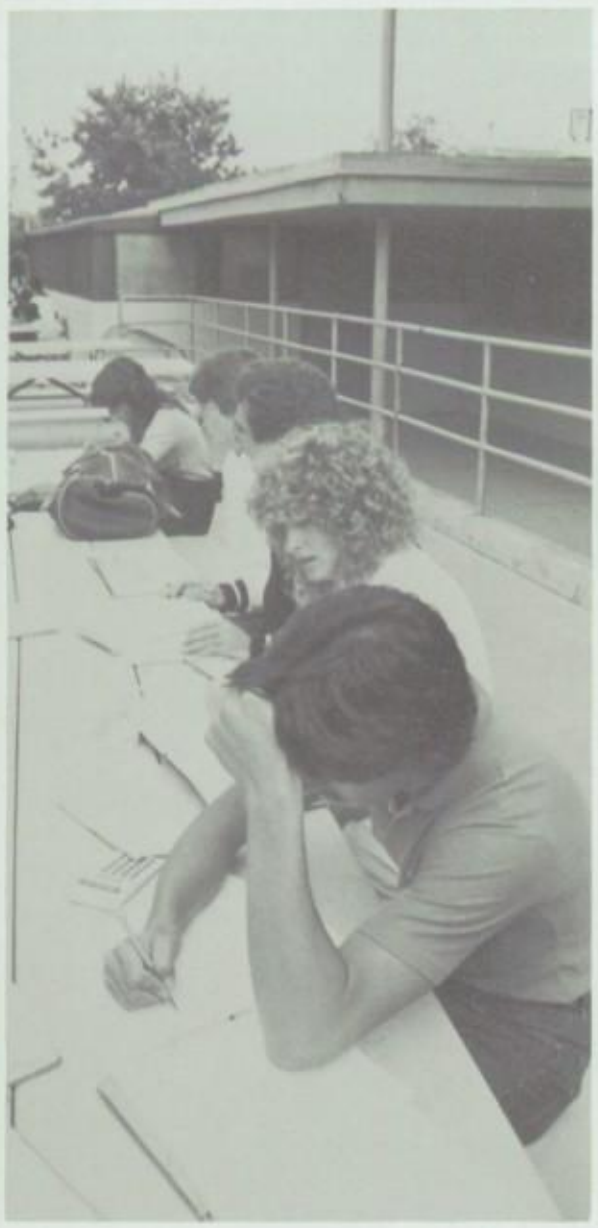
KEEPING THEMSELVES BUSY, this bunch of students enjoy a friendly game of Hacky-sack.

Noon Time Break

YVONNE RUFFING, Richard Kenyon, and Laura Fuentes have an appetizing meal at Square Pan Pizza.

There's the bell and the end of 5th period. Classrooms empty and the locker halls fill as students anxiously take a break from their morning classes. Among the places for off-campus feasting were Square Pan Pizza, the Yogurt Cup, Alex Jrs., McDonald's, and Taco Bell. For those not as hungry, settling for a small appetizer was found at U-Tote-M. There were also the various snack and beverage machines on campus. Some just preferred to either eat in the cafeteria, or bring their own lunch.

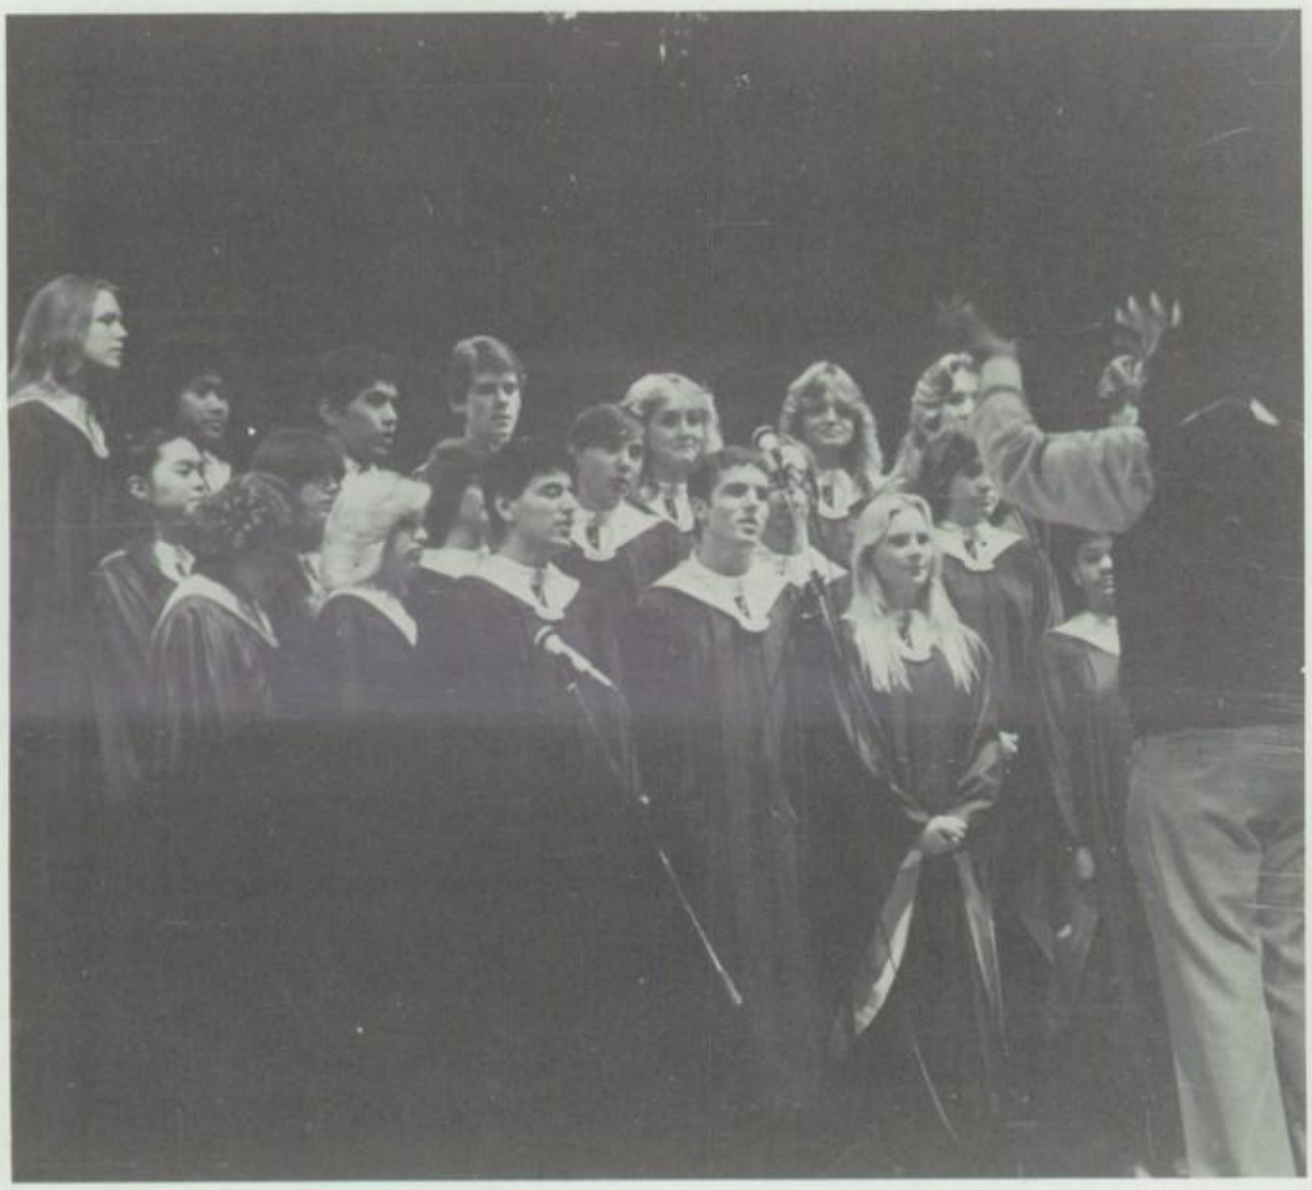
Not all students used lunch solely for soothing their appetites. There were the class competitions and other types of activities that occured during lunch.



CATCHING UP ON HOMEWORK, this group of grade-conscience students work on their homework due in 6th period.

GETTING AWAY FROM IT ALL, these students kick back and enjoy the free time offered at lunch.

WITH A BIG HOLIDAY leap, this dancer closes the show in style.



GIVING A PERFORMANCE to be remembered, the A Capella choir sings Joy To The World.

ALIS LAWRENCE takes a quick breather after playing a song for the faculty.

If Only We Had Snow

GIVING THEIR VERSION of the Twelve Days of Christmas, the faculty sings under the direction of Mr. Norman.

Santa and his helpers only would have needed to bring a little snow to make the Christmas spirit on campus totally complete. Regardless, the feeling and atmosphere of the holidays was still alive and well during the last week of school before the two week vacation.

Mistletoe, candy canes, and Hershey's Kisses were sold to students, and also delivered to others in their classrooms. Pictures with Santa himself were available for a small fee.

At a Christmas assembly, students and teachers performed on stage and entertained the audience. They sang carols and performed skits that were enjoyed by all attending. It was a great finish and it left everyone feeling the Christmas spirit.

ACTING OUT A Christmas routine, these dancers strut their stuff on stage.

Hats Off

One of the many events we all look forward to all year long, are school dances. Dances always seem to help our school year to be more exciting. One of this years dance was the Mad Hatters Dance, arranged by the junior class.

School spirit was greatly expressed by the wearing of many different hats, which helped in supporting the dances' theme. The music was played by a D.J. named Phase II. It put everyone in the mood for dancing and having a good time.

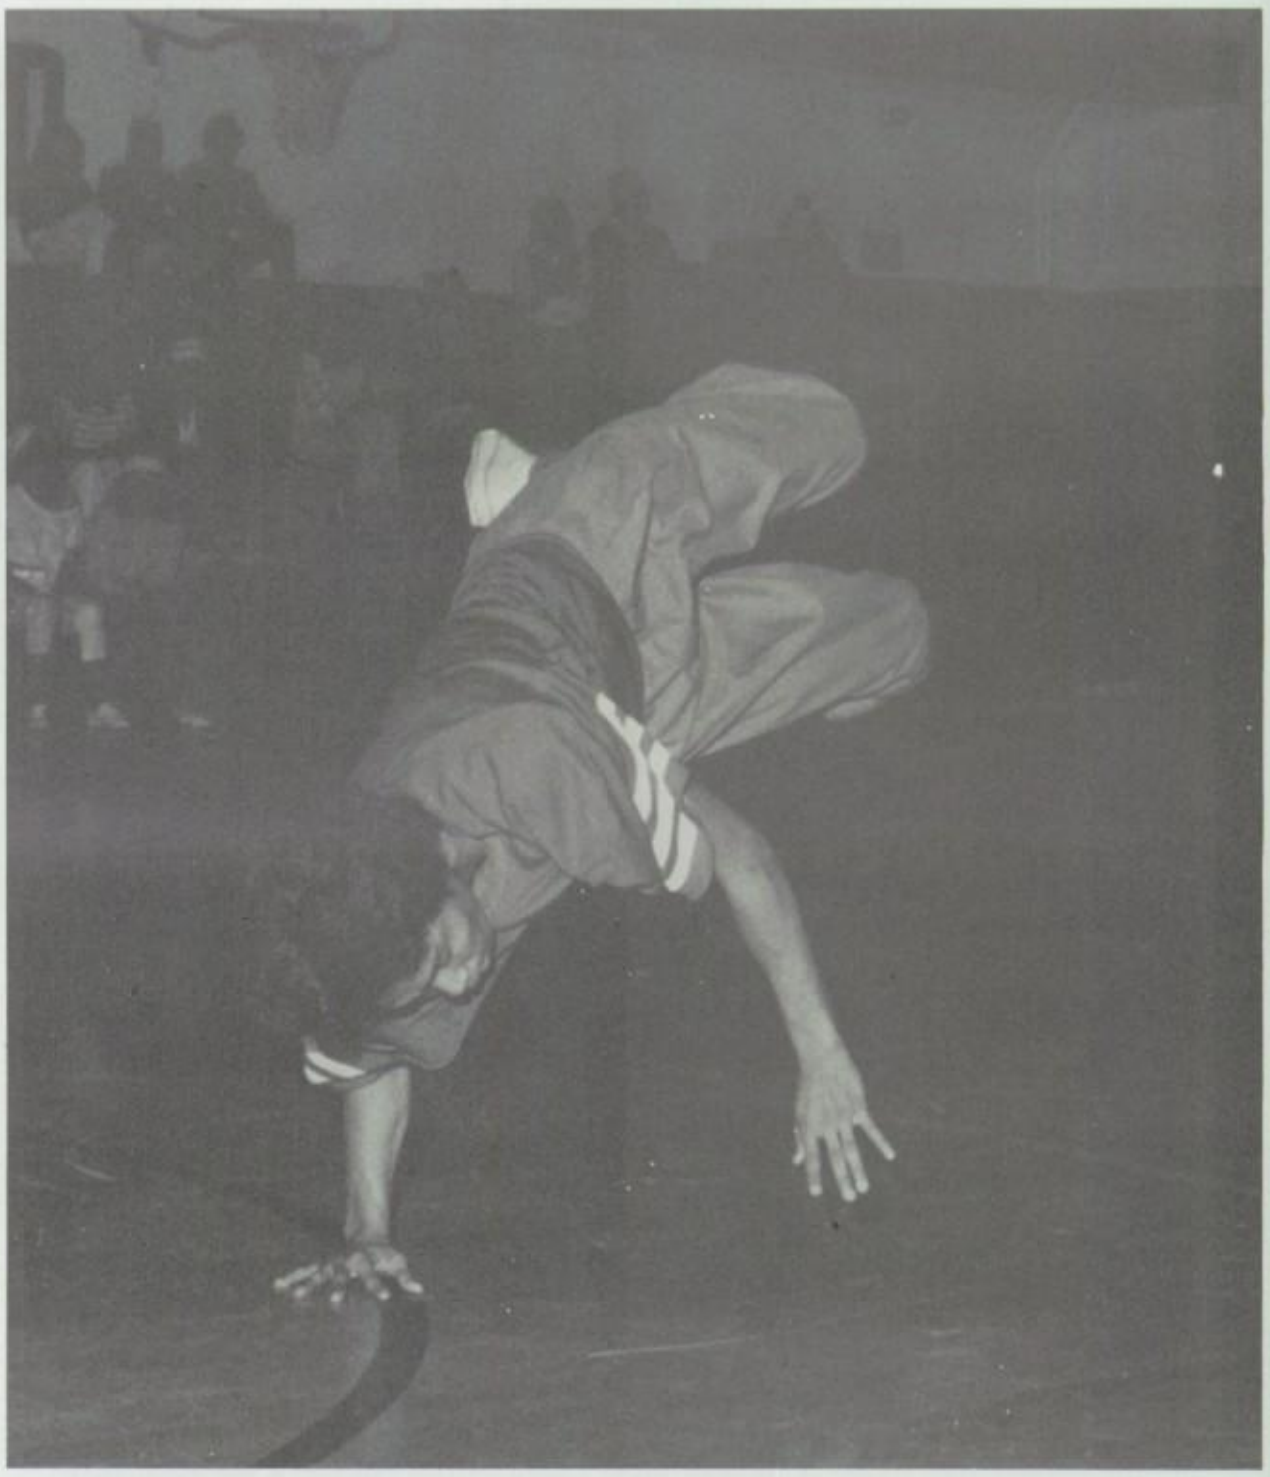
Also during the course of the dance, a break dancing contest was held. There were approximately eight groups competing against each other. After all the groups were finished with their dancing and the judging was complete, the winner received a first place trophy.

Many attended the dance and had a good time. Students were given the opportunity to have their picture taken with friends so that all would have a remembrance of the Mad Hatters Dance.

AFTER SEEING THE ROU opponents, this young man shows the crowd his breaking. Later he walked away with the first place trophy.

DANCING TO the song "Freak-a-zoid," Mando Zapanta and Janice Abrenica get ready for D.J. Phase II to play another up-beat song.

COMPETING AGAINST OTHER tough teams of dancers, Rodolfo Lamug tried his best and was hard competition for other break dancers.



DANCING the night away, Franklin Williams and Nancy Carmona enjoy themselves at the Mad Hatters Dance.

AS THE NIGHT quickly ended, many couples were seen getting in one last slow, romantic dance before the evening was over.

Curtain Call

The thriller mystery Angel Street was the subject of this past years winter play. The actors were superb in their performances and portrayed the charactors with much enthusiasm. Many long hours of dedication and work went into this play but it payed off quite well in the end.

Receiving his role only eight days prior to opening night, and after countless hours of rehearsing, Jody Warring did extremely well in his role as Inspector Rough. But the acting wasn't the only high point of the play. The set was the best ever. It was detailed and even equipped with such extravaganzas as dimming lights. The work of the whole drama department made Angel Street the great success it was for all of Kearny to enjoy.

ELIZABETH SWEARS on the Bible that she hasn't removed the mysteriously missing painting off the wall.

FRUSTRATED over Bela's actions, Jack tries to intimidate her by venting out his anger.

A.F.S.

Throughout the school year we've seen many new students walking around campus that weren't just from America but from countries such as Spain, Finland, Yugoslavia, and Portugal. Along with foreign students we had a foreign club. It was known as A.F.S. (American Field Service). This group of 20 students learned about the many cultural changes in their environment and in different countries. The students involved in this club had an opportunity to travel to another country and be an American exchange student during the summer. Many of the funds to keep this club was raised by the students by selling candy.

Cultural Mingling

P.A.B.A.S.? What is P.A.B.A.S.? No! It's not a cheer from the cheerleaders. It's not a disease either. P.A.B.A.S. is one of the many clubs we had on campus last year. P.A.B.A.S. stands for Pan Asian Brothers and Sisters. This group was sponsered by Mr. Franklin and their main goal was to share their cultural and environmental habits of their country. The group consisted of approximately 40 students of various nationalities like Somoan, Vietnamese, Philliapino, Hmong and Laotian. These students met during lunch and talked about their cultures, religions and backgrounds.

Throughout the year they had many activities like car washes and fund raisers. But the most popular activity they hosted was the food fair. At this fair, students brought food from home that represented their nationalities and feasted.

P.A.B.A.S. SECRETARY Laurie Atoe writes frivilously while listening to Mr. Franklin lecture.

DISCUSSING BROTHERHOOD week, Mrs. Ross explains the activities planned.

Step One

Project Step is a group of elite students who were chosen by teachers and administrators to be the leaders of the school. These students meet every fourth Thursday of the month during lunch time and discuss some of the major events going on in the world. This group is made up of approximately 20 students. Who have excelled in their studies. Their main goal was to bring together the future leaders of the world.

Project Step was lead by Mrs. Harris who is quoted as saying "These students are the cream of the crop." Even though they did discuss many world problems, they do fun activities such as camping, car washes, and biking.

Front row: Mrs. Harris, E. Thompson, D. Williams, M. Yang, S. Phommahsay, Joe Gama; top row: Y, Ghebremiriam. J. Tevis, K. Vu.

All in a Days Work

Can I help you? This phrase was one cliche voiced by students while working at various jobs. Some students left early during the school day and got credit for work experience.

These working class students had their hands full throughout the year. All of this hard work and tedious hours of serving the public went towards a good time when you cashed that work check in.

AFTER WAITING the entire season, football players finally met their Secret Pals at the Madhatters Dance

Shh! It's a secret!

Most students think going to football games is all it takes to support our team. There is a group of girls on campus who feel there is more to showing our team we care than just attending the games. These girls are known as the "Secret Pals".

Their main concern was to encourage the players to do well in their games. One way the group inspired the team was having lunches made for them by the Secret Pals. At the end of the football season, the players finally got a chance to meet their secret pals. They met at the Madhatters Dance and became good friends with their pals.

KOMET FOOTBALL players patiently wait for their annual Thursday lunch from their Secret Pal.

UPON RECEIVING his lunch, David Johnson signs in to reassure his place in line.

Hit the books!

This has been an over-worked statement around school campuses this past year. The cause of this was the new homework policy. It stated that every student should have two and a half hours of homework each night.

Many students dreaded the thought of having to carry home four or five books every night just to do homework. For one reason or another, many students were seen trying to get homework done during lunch.

One advantage for students was the availability of our school's library. With the library open everyday before and after school and during lunch, students had many opportunities to get some extra research done for a term paper or book report.

Many have found that keeping up with homework may not have been easy or exciting but in the long run it will help our chances for a better future.

Music Score of '84

The music scene took some big steps to be number one in the world. The biggest solo artist this year was Michael Jackson's Thriller. Some big attractions were heavy metal groups like Motley Crue and Def Leppard. At this past years sky show, a number of groups entertained thousands of young rock fans.

Rounding out the music scene, was the addition of music videos. New ones that hadn't been viewed yet. Most of the videos came on TV on late night shows, such as, KGB Rocks 10. They showed videos from artists from all over the country.

Next year shows very promising because of the new electronic equipment coming out.

Academics

No one really knows where the kids of now, who are the kids of the future, would be if it weren't for teachers. If they weren't taught to teach us . . . what would this world be like? All those "ifs" are already answered. Most students don't realize how much of their education they owe to their teachers or "leaders."

These leaders helped in molding the students from the time they were five or six years old.

Without a doubt we owe so much to our leaders, for they are the ones who make the difference.

Experience For the Needy

When you think of planning a future for yourself, one may turn to their counselor for help. The counselors here at Kearny High School offer good advice and sound reasoning. They help students with their everyday life as well as their educational needs.

All counselors were especially pleased with the good efforts and grades put forth by students. The counselors also made sure the students know and accept the graduation requirements that have been placed upon them.

Counselors were also people you could talk to with a personal problem or if your grades were faultering. Counselors also enforced strict discipline to students that misbehave. The counselors were very much needed this year and were greatly appreciated.

Helping Hands

Not many people have ever stopped to think about what has made each school year run smoothly. The first quarter and last quarters have always been the most hectic, but the office clerks have always made everything run smoothly.

The daily bulletin and attendance sheet are two tasks that have been taken for granted by most people. Both of these things are very important.

The principal and other administrators have depended on the office clerks greatly.

Without the individual secretaries, the counseling office, attendance and financial offices would have fallen to pieces.

Summing Things Up

Working towards a future, many students are constantly becoming more involved with mathematics and computers because of the way our society is changing. Technology is becoming more advanced everyday with bigger and better things in the future. It has prompted many students to brush up on their mathematical skills. A great many students are taking Computer Science this year because the society is being based on the computer and what it can do.

Although students are becoming more aware of math, the homework is getting tougher because of the homework policy that was enforced this year. Some students decided that the required four credits was enough and took another elective instead. Some of the math teachers included: Mr. Baer, Mr. Bergstrom, Mr. Carter, Mr. Doncheski, Mrs. Holley, and Mr. Olson.

Kearny, the center of industry, offered many classes in automobile skills, electronics assembly, wood working, machine and metal works and various types of other industrial traits.

Miss Boeckel walks back to the library after a refreshing break.

Everybody has enjoyed a break from the usual routine by watching a film, or video-tape in one of their classes. Not many people are aware of how the teachers get these teaching supplements for their classrooms.

The Media Lab was where most of these items came from. The actual Media Lab is adjacent to the library.

The equipment in the lab can broadcast 3 channels at once, for classroom use. Not only does this branch of the school broadcast television, it also does some of its own production.

The technicians and film crew have filmed mock trials for law class so the students can critique their performance. The speech team has been taped for the same reasons. Training tapes made for auto body painting have been filmed on campus to help others. Because of the Media Lab, both students and teachers have benefited from the resources offered there.

Taking a load off the cafeteria workers was only one of the bonus' the new "Express Stop" had to offer. Thanks to this new mealtime expra, the students had a difficult decision of choosing what to eat.

The cart was open in the morning for those students who never seemed to have time to eat breakfast at home. The portable food cart helped them to start the day off right.

To students who chose to stay on campus for lunch, the usual rush around the cafeteria was an unseen problem. There was no worry about driving off to the closest hamburger place either, since the latest addition to lunch served a variety of hot and cold sandwiches, drinks, chips, and desserts.

Along with the new addition for mealtime, was addition to the trash cans. Thanks to the helpful custodians, overflowing recepticles were hardly seen on campus.

Mr. Norman has taught at Kearny for nearly eight years. His first couple of years were spent as the Band director but he soon progressed into other traits of teaching. He was appointed as Choir director in 1980 and has done a splendid job with it.

Mr. Norman also plays a mean guitar and is willing to share his knowledge of that instrument to other students. In Band, he has accomplished many tasks. With over 20 trophies and plaques to his credit, Mr. Norman is considered an ALL AMERICAN TEACHER!

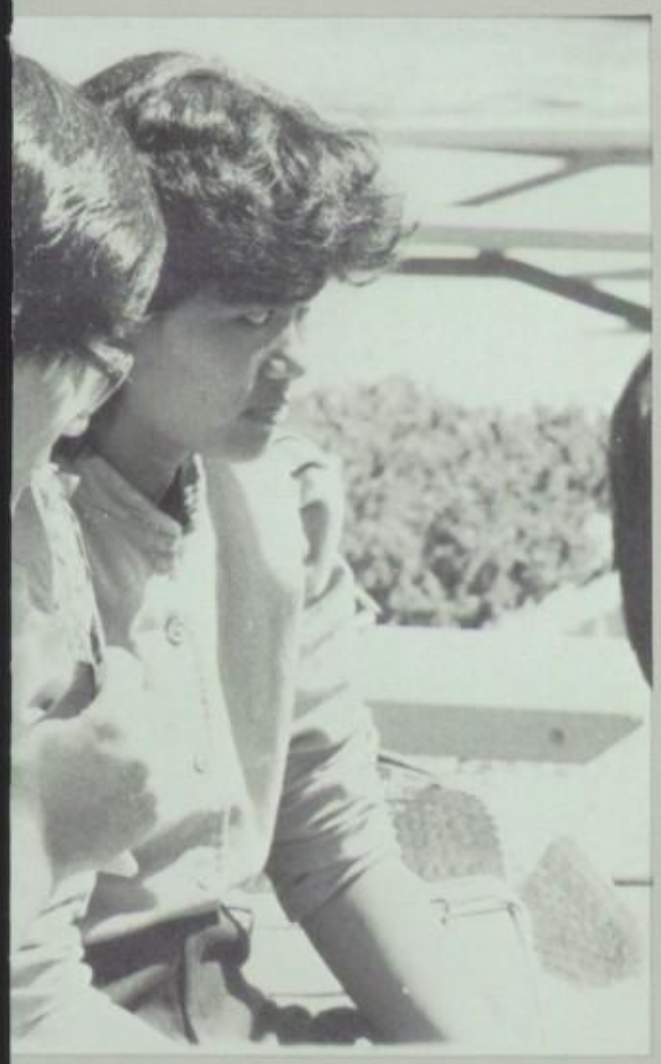
Richard Doncheski

DECIDED ON HIS VOTE for the Homecoming Court, Brent Rummell folds his paper for secrecy.

SHARING A MOMENT with friend Bernie Santos, Mike Cagle talks about his memories of high school.



Seniors

Of all the years in school, the year that proves to be most memorable is the senior year of high school. Some use the last year of high school as a method of training for future careers. Others try and learn as much knowledge in as many subjects as they can. The education has been received well and is the biggest asset one has when they enter the business world.

Besides all the books, pencils, and paper, the best times were shared with the people met in school.

With this being the last year for seniors, they will not soon forget the memories of Kearny High.

GETTING READY TO leave campus at lunch, Mark Hicks, Dan Nelson, and Eric Waggoner discuss what place they will eat at.

All hail to Alma Mater,
We praise thy noble name.
There will never be another,
Whose faith we'll all proclaim.
Thy memories we'll cherish
Though years go by
So hail our school forever,
Kearny Senior High.

84 — A Turn for the Better

Bernadette Santos led the way to a very successful year. The 1983-84 school year started out with the T.G.I.F. Dance on September 30. Surprisingly, the seniors profited more than $200 and felt that everyone enjoyed themselves. The candy sale and T-shirt sale were the seniors' leading fundraisers. Dr. Dean, the hypnotist, was scheduled for January and made it an evening for everyone to remember. Many new plans were made for this year such as the Talent Show in March and the formalwear fashion show in May. The best way to describe this graduating class is by their senior T-shirts . . . '84 Does it with Class.

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS — (front to back) Bernadette Santos — President, Irene Kimbrough — Treasurer, Lynn Sarmiento — Secretary and Derek Pasnak — Vice-President.

Believe in Yourself

Believe in yourself
Believe you were made to do any job without calling for aid.
Believe, without growing too scornfully proud.
That you as the greatest and least are endowed.
A mind to do thinking
Two hands and two eyes
Are all the equipment
God gave to the wise.

Believe in yourself
You're divinely designed and perfectly made for the work of mankind.
Believe to the very last hour,
for it's true —
That whatever you will,
You've been gifted to do.
Yes, you have all the talents you need.
But you've got to Believe in yourself to succeed.

Quotes to Ponder

Some men storm imaginary Alps all their lives and die in the foothills cursing difficulties that do not exist.

E.W. Howe

The day will happen whether or not you get up.

John Ciardi

Great ideas need landing gear as well as wings.

C.D. Jackson

Never fear shadows. They simply mean there's a light shining somewhere.

Ruth E. Renkel

People judge you by your actions, not your intentions. You may have a heart of gold, but so has a hard-boiled egg.

Good Reading

Charm is the quality in others that makes us more satisfied with ourselves.

Henri Frederic Amiel

Vitality shows not only in the ability to persist but in the ability to start over.

F. Scott Fitzgerald

Everyone has talent; what is rare is the courage to follow the talent to the dark place where it leads.

Erica Long

You can sometimes catch a terrible chill waiting for somebody else to cover you with glory.

B.H.C.

Humor is a reminder that no matter how high the throne one sits on, one sits on one's bottom.

A Californian?

Pasi Salonen has blond hair, blue eyes and likes to windsurf. Sound like any Californian guy? Well, you're wrong. In fact, Pasi is a foreign exchange student from Finland.

Being a foreign exchange student isn't as easy as it sounds. Pasi had two orientations where he was told of the difficulties he would encounter coming to America; things like making new friends, school, customs, life style and the spoken language. Pasi does admit that with all the difficulties, it gets better as time passes. He says (in his Finish accent), "In fact, it is really fantastic experience. I have met a lot of new people, got new friends and visited many places." Someday, maybe Pasi will even understand the American way of life. Good luck, Pasi!?

A Varied Treasure

Soon after the school year started, students got the opportunity to order their class ring. It was offered by the Custom Jewelry & Awards Company. Buying a ring was a way for students to have something to remember Kearny after they graduate.

The class rings were not all alike. A student could choose from an oval or a square-shaped stone, with a smooth or cut top. The student also had the option of either buying the school stone or the student's birthstone.

In all, the rings came with the choice of stone, the initials of your name engraved on it, and a lifetime warranty. The ring came in white or yellow. The white ring was priced at $79.95 for girls, and $83.95 for boys. The yellow ring was more expensive. It was $99.95 for the girls, and $115.95 for the boys.

Free Education?

During our senior year, we're told to apply for any scholarships available that we may be eligible for. One person didn't have to worry about that. Erin Rooney is the proud recipient of the National Merit Scholarship. To become eligible for N.M.S., you must score high on the S.A.T. as well as having a high grade point average. Erin belongs to the California Scholarship Foundation (CSF) and scored 1310 on her S.A.T. test (660 — Verbal and 650 — Math). Those that have taken the S.A.T. know how difficult it may be to receive a score beyond 1000.

The N.M.S. is supported by a group of businessmen that want to give a promising youth a boost in his/her education. Erin deserves this honor well and most assuredly, will use it to the best of her advantage. Best of luck, Erin!

Spirit in a Material World

The A.S.B. had many items on sale ranging from a 60¢ pen to a $15 hooded sweatshirt. You could buy anything from a bumper sticker to a frisbee with the Kearny High School emblem on it. A new item was the senior shirt. On the front it had the saying " '84 Does it with Class" and on the back was a list of all of the seniors' names. Another popular shirt was a gray half shirt with "Property of Kearny Athletics" printed on it.

Every week during football season, a new "Beat" ribbon was sold. A different slogan was written for every game the football team played. This is one of the many ways the football team was supported around campus.

A Spanish Guest

When Juan San Martin first arrived in America, he asked himself what he was doing here away from his home in Spain, family and friends. As time progressed, Juan made many new friends. He has seen many movies but likes Rocky III the best. He has gone to Kearny's football games but became confused when he saw our cheerleaders. Maybe because cheerleaders are unknown in Spain.

Juan has kept himself busy during his stay in America by being the goalie for our Kearny Water Polo team and also enjoys playing soccer and golf.

Even though he has become comfortable in America and likes the people, Juan feels that he could never become "Americanized". He enjoys the American way of life, but still feels that his real roots are back in Spain.

Juan San Martin, a Spanish foreign exchange student, listens to Eric Waggoner express a thought during lunch.

So, You Want to go to College?

Most seniors plan to go to college. But which one? A junior college or a university? A more important question, will I be accepted?

Midway through the year, doubts began to stick in the seniors' mind. Some prepare for the Scholastic Aptitude Test. To help the students, a preparation course was offered. It presented many helpful hints needed to score well on the test.

The costs of going to college went up, and this decided the fate of some seniors. But no matter which college the senior applied to, they were very eager in March to receive a letter reading, "You have been accepted . . . "

An $8,000 Hobby?

Ever dream about owning a horse? What may be a dream to some of us is a reality for Alycen Haynesworth. Easter Dart, affectionately called Hummer, is a thoroughbred ex-race horse. Alycen's family has owned Hummer for seven years. This thoroughbred has won many trophies, ribbons, and a silver goblet. Hummer is approximately worth $8,000 as a show horse and competes in English classes and Dressage.

To prepare Hummer for an upcoming show, Alycen works out with the horse for at least three hours a day. This may seem like a lot of work, but Alycen's family feels that it is well worth the time and effort to take care of such a prestigious horse.

College During High School?

For the past 20 years, political science and calculus have been offered at Kearny High School for college credit. At first, these classes were taught by Kearny teachers, but in 1963, Mesa College took over the program. Students are required to purchase their own books for these classes.

Political Science met on Mondays, Wednesdays and Thursdays during third period and was taught by Mrs. Hanchett. The political science book was approximately $39.

Calculus, taught by Mrs. Holly, met on Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Fridays during fourth period. The calculus book was approximately $41.

Although a great deal of time, effort and money was required, most students felt the class was excellent preparation for college and worth all of the hard work.

Seniors Take on a New Look

During the past year, hair styles have changed drastically. The trend has shifted to short hair, this includes guys. One of the popular styles is long hair on top and short in the back. Tails are also common. Dying your hair jet black is common on campus.

Large dangling earrings are popular. A large number of people have their ears pierced more than once. Guys have also joined in this trend.

Outfits have changed also. Pumps are still worn by many. The look of the 80's has corresponded with the latest music, romantic dance music. At the other end of the spectrum are the headbangers with their British flag shirts.

Tom Puente models the latest hairstyle for guys: tails.

Sign of the Times

It seems as though everyone went sign-happy this year. A great deal of people were willing to spend time to express their thoughts that may somehow be remembered throughout the years. Many signs varied from the ideal romantics such as the "I love . . . " signs to the very patriotic with the American flag in the back.

The picture was appropriately taken with the "Class of '84" painted on the racquetball courts in the background.

An unknown comedian stole the photographer's ladder which enabled him to get on and off the roof. Luckily, another ladder was found. The enthusiasm in the mob shot was carried out throughout the year which made the school year an exciting one.

A Yugoslavian Visitor

Dragan Skropanic is almost like any ordinary American boy until you speak to him, his Yugoslavian accent gives him away. Ever since his arrival to San Diego, he has visited almost all the tourist spots: the San Diego Zoo, Sea World, Old Town, Disneyland and Knott's Berry Farm. Although he liked Space Mountain, he still thinks Zabavni Park in Yugoslavia can't be compared to it.

Being in another country has been difficult for Dragan. One of his dislikes is the fact that one needs a car to get anywhere. But he feels all other things are O.K. He says that most Europeans think that life in America is better but he prefers to use the word "different". Well, maybe Dragan has discovered something that most Americans don't realize: he says, "American people live very relaxed, spend much more time in fun and with people they care about. Maybe that's the essence of being a living creature."

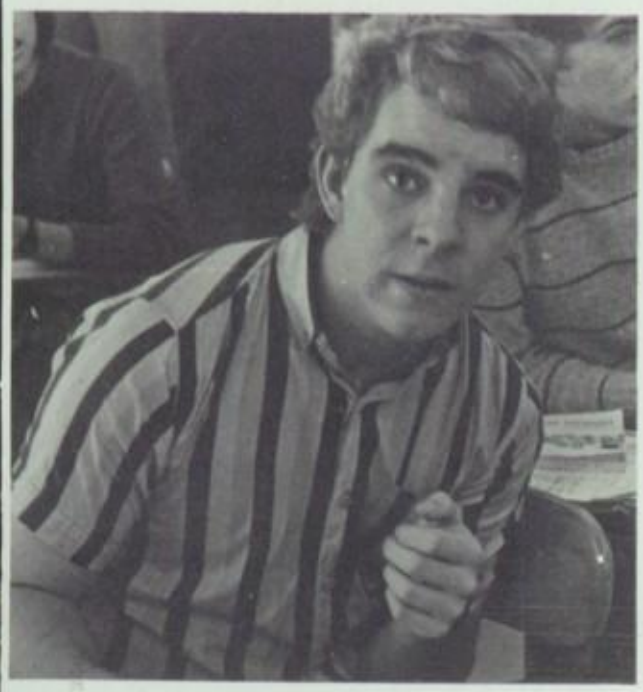
C.L.A.S.

C.L.A.S. was a club that was started this year as a service/honor organization for seniors. Their goals were to make Kearny a better place and to give seniors a chance to become active in their community and school. They had many fundraisers throughout the year and aided community help services. C.L.A.S. was led by President Amy Kropp and Vice-Presidents Erin Rooney and Rose Aeria.

Future President?



written by Joel Nauton

The list reads "Delegate to Sacramento . . . Governor of California . . . " Those credentials belong to Eric Waggoner, a senior here at Kearny.

Actually, Waggoner, 17, accomplished the above in the American Legion Boys' Nation. He was chosen to represent Kearny at the gathering of 900 high school students in Sacramento sponsored by the American Legion.

It is basically political play-acting and after passing a bar exam and practicing law, Waggoner ran for Boys' State Governor.

Waggoner was victorious, and was inaugurated by a state Supreme Court Justice. He was then designated as one of two representatives to Washington D.C. The "Senators" from every state were then shown around the capitol.

Waggoner chose to run for Boys' Nation Presidency and was voted into the top three in his party before losing in the primaries. He didn't stop there though, and was appointed Secretary of State.

Waggoner is perhaps San Diego's most honored high school student and deserves to be.

KEEPING THE SPIRIT ALIVE, Komet Cheerleaders arouse the crowd during the Cheerleaders Alumni Reunion.

DURING 91-X DAY, our A.S.B. took part in getting 91-X DJ Steve West to speak and give away prizes during spirit week.

Organizations

Trying to make our school more interesting, the many different organizations that were seen throughout our campus helped in keeping extracurricular activities alive and spirited. Ranging from the J.R.O.T.C. to the A.S.B. to the Drama Club, all of these organizations couldn't have been done any better without endless devotion and dedication by the students who participated, With hours put in, such as the cheerleaders practicing for a big game, these students strived in making this the best year possible.

There were many clubs on campus like the P.A.B.A.S. Club that helped in getting many Pan-Asian students together with other students.

Whether you participated or just observed, there was plenty to do in any organization.

DONALD MITCHELL prepares the J.R.O.T.C. for competition among other schools.

Mission: Impossible

Our mission: to try to make this a good yearbook with only one-fourth of the staff members experienced.

With deadlines approaching faster than planned, putting this book together was no easy task to accomplish. Beyond what a student sees, there are a lot of other necessary things to do to make this yearbook. The first hard item to find was a topic. Then there's writing copy and captions, scheduling pictures, enlarging them, and finally placing those pictures on a layout.

With most of the staff newcomers, a workshop was held during the summer to get them started early. Only four people had experience making it very difficult to have everything go perfect.

One thing to look forward to in 1985 will be another good yearbook with a well-balanced staff.

YEARBOOK STAFF members Paul Massaro, Randy Kelderman, and Tracy Walcott choose pictures for a feature while Jeff O'Hara writes copy.

EDITOR Michaela Schmitten discusses a possible cover for the yearbook due in October.

DISCUSSING A new layout style, Erin Rooney and Lynn Sarmiento leaf through a yearbook sample magazine.

PREPARING FOR A shooting at a lunchtime activity, Jesse Parks changes lenses for a closer view of his subjects.

USING THEIR creativity, Monica Conroy and Amy Shores make posters for advertising the yearbook.

One on One

Students helping students, that's what they were all about. The Peer Counseling class organized all types of activities that involved the old as well as new Kearny students.

For the new they became a friend in the vast sea of strangers. They helped them out on their first day of school, introduced them to people and familiarized them to all aspects of Kearny.

Getting students to know and relate with others was one of their main goals. To help students understand this the Peer Counselers ran Human Relations exercises in classrooms. These exercises were an entertaining break away from the daily routine for students but they also taught self-awareness and awareness of others. Students were able to see and accept others as they are and the exercises brought forth the importance of this.

The Peer Counseling class was a great asset to Kearny and the communications between students.

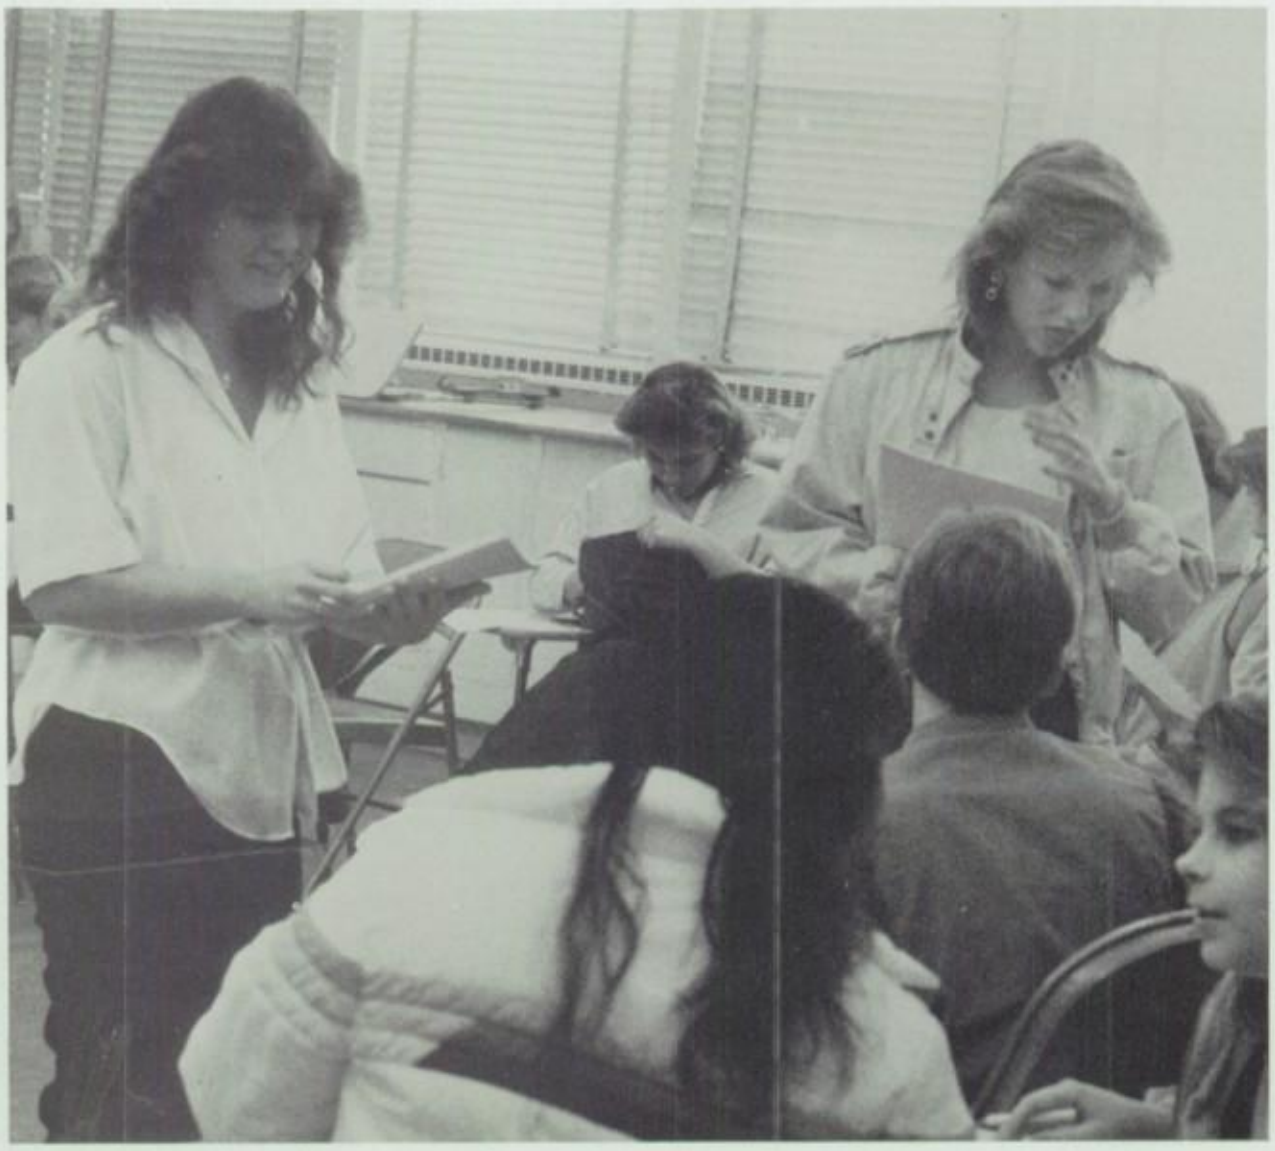
Paul Vandevelt raises an opposing view to the class discussion as Erin Kobayashi and Patty Rivas listen intently.

A student adds his thoughts to the dicussion while Mr. Franklin listens on.

Adding a touch of country to the Home Coming Parade, the Peer Counselors give their version of a hayride.



Taking over class for the day Claudine White and Leann Wallake run Human Relations exercises together.

RAPPING UP another days work, Irene Kimbrough, Maria Leal, Bernie Santos, and Peter Anderson await the bell for lunch.

ORGANIZING THE many activities planned, ASB members double check previous arrangements.

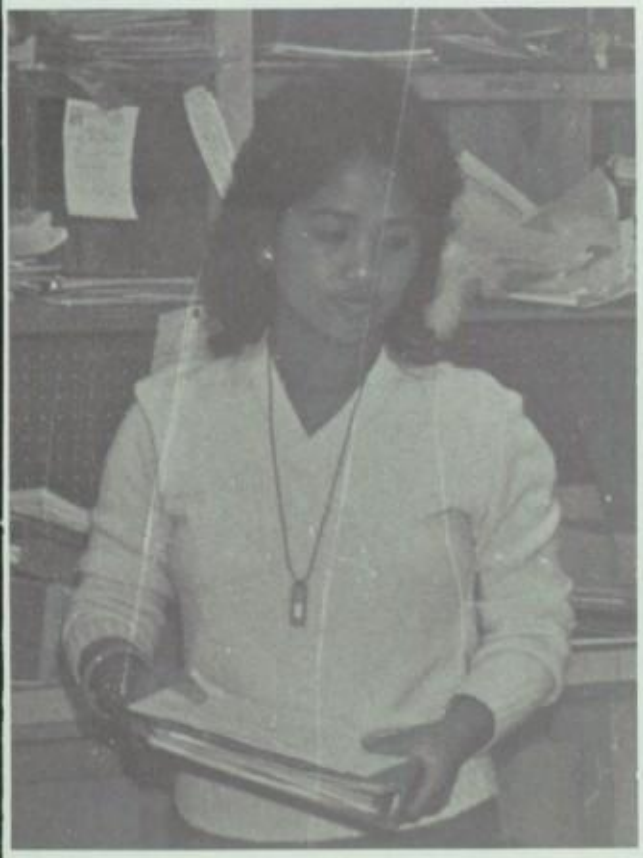
A Time For Work, A Time For Play

Representing the whole student body, the ASB contributed to Kearny's student activities in a various number of ways. Their work enabled others to play. Dances were a big success due to their new additions. These included creative themes that students could partake in such as the Mad Hatters Dance and popular live bands like N-E-1.

But dances weren't the only thing the ASB produced. They organized many trips to places like Hawaii, and kept most students entertained with others.



WORKING ON A THEME for the February dance, Lynn Sarmiento looks through a list of ideas.

PREPARING FOR THE MONTH AHEAD, Ms. Sedlock, Maria Leal, Irene Kimbrough, and Bernie Santos list up coming events on the calendar.

Komet Band Marches On!

A phrase that best describes the marching band. Under the supervision of Barney Norman and Drum major Rudy Manahan, the band walked away with honors in every parade they entered.

Placing 3rd at The Old Town Christmas Parade was a big disappointment to the band but they knew that if they worked harder and kept the right attitude they would soon be winners of a 1st place trophy. Soon enough, they had one. The Pacific Beach Parade was where they picked it up at. Clean sweeping the band competition, they showed what determination they had in themselves and really showed their stuff. Band officers Lisa Hogan, Trish Stahl, Karen Infantino, Donna Knotts, Mickie Lujan, Rudy Manahan, and Ray Harkness helped the band a lot!

Make It Great!

Make it great, the phrase that uniquely discribes the cheerleaders of 1984. As fun as Varsity Cheer may be, the squad found that it took a lot of hard work, extra time, and alot of dedication to keep up the good work. In charge of advising the 11 cheerleaders was Ms. Sedlock. She devoted many hours of work to both the varsity and junior varsity squads. As head of varsity, Madeline Blando worked hard to keep the girls together.

Without these cheerleaders, this school would be a little less spirited. Thanks to them sporting events are more lively and spirited.

The Latest Scoop!

The Galaxy was welcomed by the Kearny High students due to the information concerning school activities and personalities. The newspaper cost 25¢ or 5¢ with an A.S.B. card.

The Galaxy staff was comprised of mostly seniors and a few under-classmen. For most of the students this was their second year on the staff.

Joel Nauton was this years editor. This position was not easily held and requires a great deal of knowledge and determination. During the year the staff covered many activities including dances and sporting events. Overall the Galaxy looks promising for next years returning staff members.

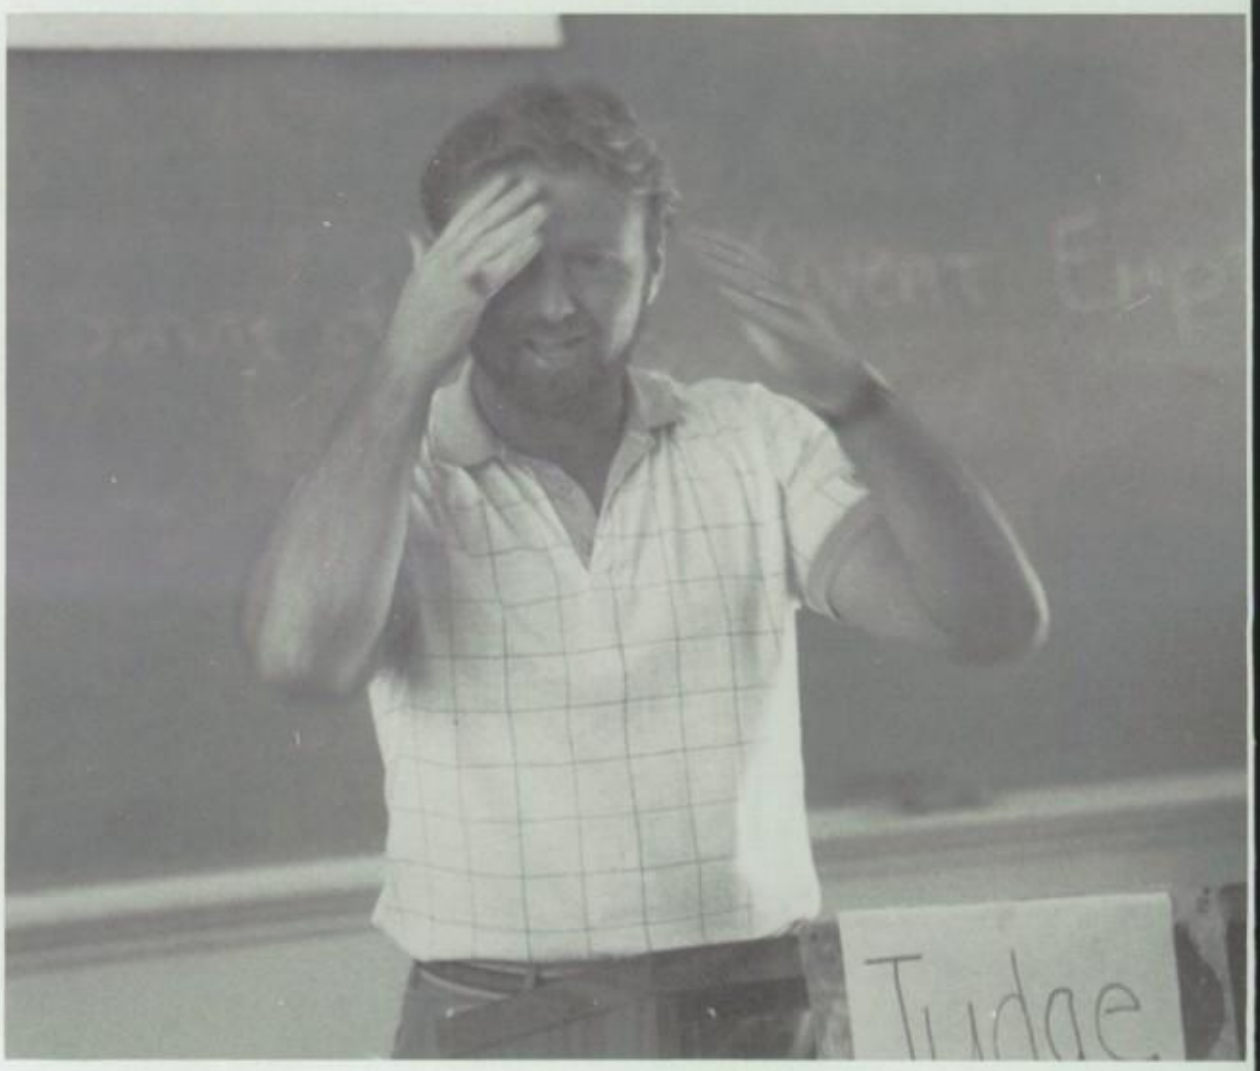
Mockery In the Classrooms

Is Jeff Larson really guilty in the selling of drugs on the school campus? This is one of the many questions brought about by the lawyers and judges during their reign in the Mock Trials. You might be asking what is the Mock Trials? Well, the Mock Trials was a competition in which four schools, La Jolla, Morse, Hoover, and Gompers, developed and diminished court problems. The competition took place in an actual court house before judges. At the end of the competition, the judge gives two decisions on the days happenings. First he decides whether the accused is innocent or guilty? Then he decides what school did the best in presenting their case. Dr. Short formed the Mock Trial team three years ago and since that time Kearny has finished at least in the top 3 in the county and third in the state.

The Mock Trial team consists of nine lawyers, eight witnesses and two bailiffs. Together they make up two teams. That have proven to be the lawyers and judges in town.

Rosemarie Aeria reflects on the days competition and tries and hides her guilty conscience.



Responding to a students question, Dr. Short discusses and illustrates judges biases.

Singer's Speakers

For the past six years, Kearny's Speech team has consistantly placed in the top three schools in our entire school district! Each semester speech teams from Patrick Henry, La Jolla, Pt. Loma, Madison, and even Crawford, fall by the wayside while Kearny's speech team continues to add to their ever-growing number of trophies. In addition to the city's speech tournaments, speech students enter scholarship contests sponsored by local business men. The Kearny-Mesa Rotary Club presented awards to Mary GoldKamp and Eleanor Kauhi. Cash awards were won by Eric Waggoner, Randy Palomino, Maureen Sampson and James Sapp at the Vet. of Foreign Wars contest. The Lions Club award was won by Eric Waggoner. Eric and Mary will continue on to compete for college Scholarships.

Patiently awaiting their final scores, the speech team sits back and enjoy their Leisure Pops, furnished by Mrs. Leisure.

Marching Forward

Discipline and respect was the central goal of the JROTC. Using these traits the members were trained for the military. They showed their skills in many different areas of military performance.

Both men and women participated in such activities as the Rifle Team, Color Guard, Fancy Drill Team, and Drum Corp. And on the lighter side of it all, they had boys and girls softball teams.

Perfection in these areas is of great importance. The teams compete in matches against other schools in the various fields they were trained in. The training that the members of the JROTC receive will help them tremendously in a military future. But whether they go on to the military or not, all that they have learned will benefit them in the future.

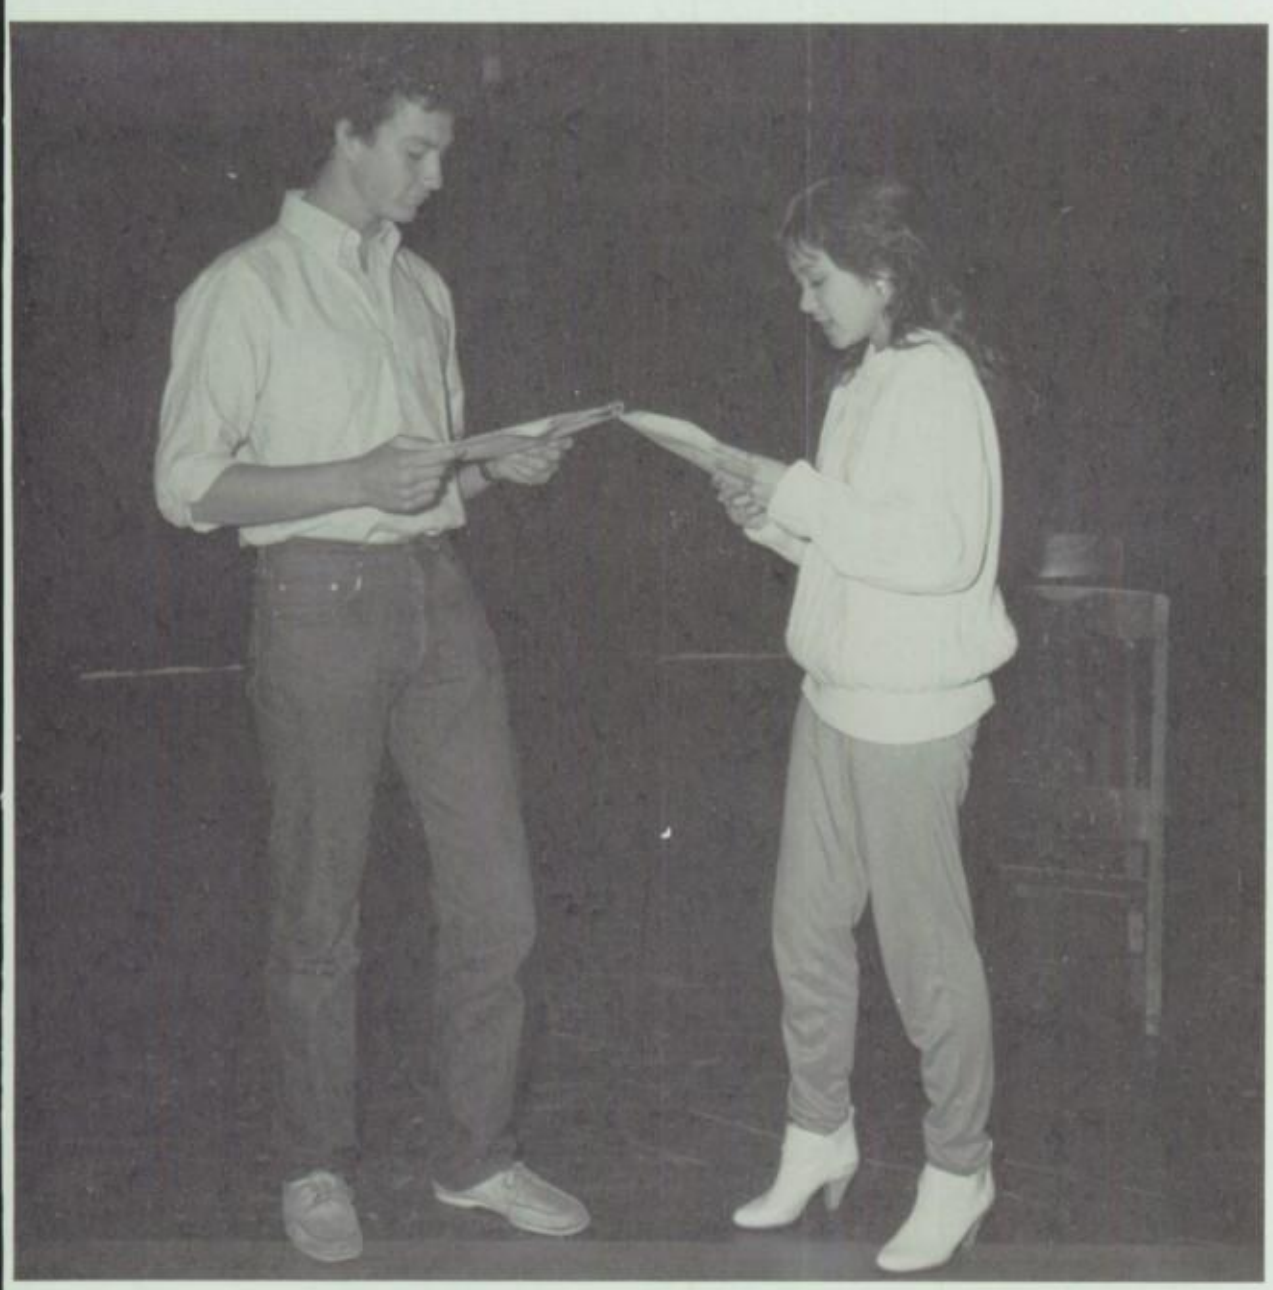
We Are Marquee!

Being mostly composed of drama actors, the Marquee Club got off to a good start in performing the many plays that they had this year. The club met every fifth period to discuss future plays and practice lines for those plays. The Supper Theater, Angel Street, and The Odd Couple were the only productions presented by the Marquee Club. Fund raisers were started to help pay for props. The club sold M & M's chocolate candies, which was well needed for up and coming plays.

Throughout the year, the class had opportunities to watch different movies in hopes of gaining more knowledge in the field of acting.

Next year is expected to be another great one due to the fact that a lot of juniors and sophomores will be returning club members.



DISPLAYING HER TALENTS, Mary Goldkamp puts forth one hundred percent effort to make her character convincing.

PRACTICING LINES FOR the Angel Street play, David Young and Kim Kuck patiently wait for each others cues.

All In Harmony

The A Cappella Choir did a great job this year under the direction of Mr. Norman. The choir went Christmas caroling to Mission and Fashion Valley and to Seaport Village.

Aiding the President Derek Pasnak was the Vice-President Alison Haynesworth. Together they and the choir worked very hard with various fund raisers to make the necessary money needed for up-coming festivals.

Putting this effort toward the choir made this past year very successful and exciting.

Come On Feel The Rhythm

Transforming from a marching band to a pep-band second semester, a group of talented musicians worked hard to keep spirits alive on campus. Supervising the organizations is Barney Norman, director of the band. In charge of events and fund raisers is the President, Patricia Stahl. Assisting her every step of the way are the band officers. They include Vice-President Lisa Hogan, Secretary Mickie Lugan, Treasurer Donna Knotts, and the advising committee was Rudy Manahan, Ray Harkness, Tom Perry, and Karen Infantino.

The pep-band played at many sporting events, which earned them the respect of many people.

Scheduled last May, was a Pop-Concert put on by the band to show their versatility in playing music. Among the songs played were hits such as "Every Breath You Take" and "Maniac."

Sports

Putting aside the heavy tasks and duties of education, much of the population of students devoted more of their time to sports. To become better physically and mentally took up a lot of extra time, practice, and most importantly, extreme effort and dedication.

Going to many of the games played here, one can see the players putting in so much to help their team gain victories.

It didn't matter how well you played the game, but that you did play! Sports will help you gain an attitude of self-confidence and possibly the ability to be a stand-out in whatever subject you choose.

AFTER SAVING A SHOT ON GOAL, Mike Schott clears the ball away to a fellow teammate.

A Rebuilding Season

Youth and inexperience could best describe the Varsity football team. The team consisted of only five returning players and this inexperience cost them a lot of close games in which they could have easily won. The squad was further weakened by injuries to key players.

Despite these shortcomings, the team still had some bright spots. Seniors Lionel Demorst, Steve Wright, and Mike Cagle gave the team both consistent play and leadership. Junior Robert Ring led the team in rushing yardage and Larry Huff was always dangerous at wide receiver. The two sophomores to make the team, Steve Daley and Rob Skinner, made some big plays.

Next year Kearny will move from the 3A Eastern League to the 2A Western. This should give the Komets a new challenge and start a new era in Kearny football.

With a swarming defense, the Komets make the Pt. Loma running back pay the price.

While watching his team out on the field, Coach Barnett listens to his headset.

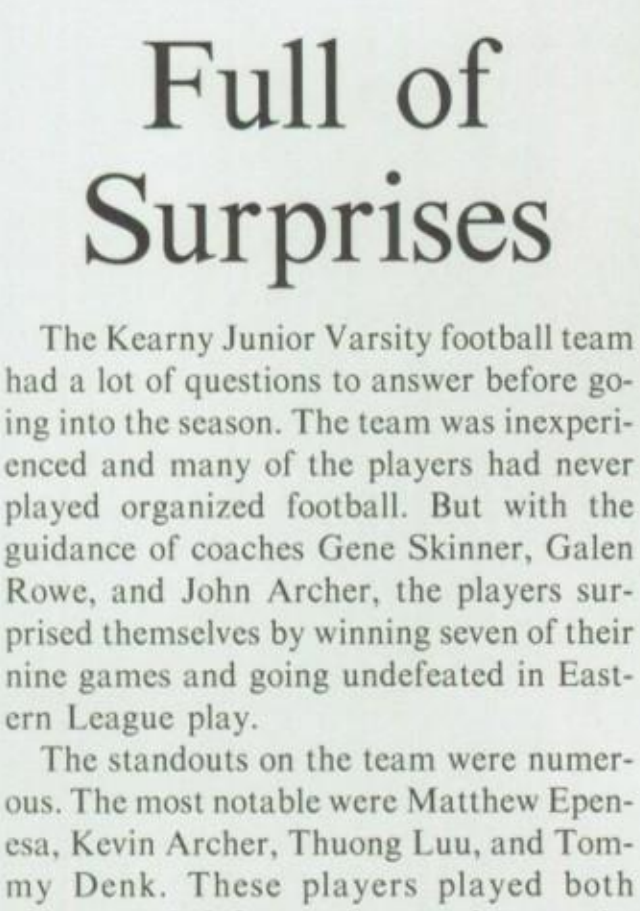
Full of Surprises

The Kearny Junior Varsity football team had a lot of questions to answer before going into the season. The team was inexperienced and many of the players had never played organized football. But with the guidance of coaches Gene Skinner, Galen Rowe, and John Archer, the players surprised themselves by winning seven of their nine games and going undefeated in Eastern League play.

The standouts on the team were numerous. The most notable were Matthew Epenesa, Kevin Archer, Thuong Luu, and Tommy Denk. These players played both offense and defense when grades cut the roster almost in half. First year player Corey Barker filled in admirably as the quarterback.

The horizon looks bright for Komet football. With the talent of the J.V. team, the varsity team should be stronger and bring back the winning tradition to Kearny.

On a sweep to the right, tackle Kevin Archer leads the way for Thomas Abeyta.



Stacking up the middle, the Komet defense stops a Crawford running back for no gain.

Spikers Show Spirit

To evaluate the girls varsity volleyball season, one could not look at the win-loss record of the team. Their record was disappointing, but it doesn't show the hard work of the team. They refused to ever give up and gave every team a battle. Coach Douglas was proud of the team's enthusiasm throughout the season.

The team's disappointing season could be attributed to the fact that only one player, Mikee Schmitten, had had varsity experience from the previous year. Beth Selby, a transfer student, was a solid addition to the team. The girls played their best match against Madison, which they eventually lost in three close games. Their lone league victory came against Morse.

The players showed a great deal of improvement as the season progressed and were always competitive. This experience should carry over to next year.

Showing their skills, Mikee Schmitten and Lucy Rydelski successfully block a shot.

Concentrating intently, Lucy Rydelski goes for the kill.

After winning a point, the team shows their spirit by exchanging high-fives.

A Learning Experience

The girls J.V. volleyball team had a fine season finishing the year at 5-5 in the tough Eastern League. More important than the record, though, is the considerable improvement of the players. Since J.V. is a building block for the varsity team, every girl got to play in every game and contributed to a successful team effort.

One of the most exciting games of the season was a match against Mira Mesa. The girls worked hard for every point before narrowly losing it in the final game.

The team got outstanding play from Maria Collins and Diana Gleason, two of their best setters who helped the team a great deal. Janet Hunstable and Venise Coleman did well all season as hitters.

The girls proved that they could play with anyone and gained the confidence they need for next season.

Skillfully, Diana Gleason concentrates on volleying the ball back over the net.

Displaying her passing skills, Janet Hunstable bumps the ball to the center.

Striving for Perfection

The water polo team fought terrific odds just to have a season. In June of 1983, the School Board cut the aquatics program because the cost of pool rental was too high. The sport was then reinstated in August, giving the players very little time to get ready for the season.

Rather than succumbing to these adversities, the team rose above themselves. With a group of twelve hard working players, the team had a terrific season. They won the El Cajon Valley Tournament on October 22 with almost everyone making a contribution. The leadership of captain Raul Castillo, the skill of Dean Zamora (36 goals), and the goalkeeping of Juan San Martin helped the team have a rewarding season.

All in all, Coach Kohr was very pleased with the team's progress. The players learned a great deal about the sport of water polo, teamwork, responsibility, pride in doing your best, and the joy of winning.

Timeout for Tennis

The girls tennis team didn't do as well as they wanted to, but they still had a fine season. The girls faced a lot of tough competition throughout the year and the breaks never seemed to go their way.

The team was led by number one singles player Missy Darnell. Other standouts were Belinda Bauerle and third year varsity player Kathy Matthews. The number one doubles team, Diane Raimondo and Irene Kimbrough, played well all year. Rose Aeria and Bernadette Santos were also consistent throughout the year as a doubles team.

Even though it was a frustrating year, the girls never gave up and always played to the best of their abilities. The team will lose a lot of players to graduation, but the team should come back stronger than ever next year.

With intense concentration, Kathy Matthews and Pam Poblete await the serve.

Using her backhand, Belinda Bauerle slams the ball back to her opponent.

A Troubled Season

Cross country is a sport that takes a lot of hard work, dedication, and an inexhaustible stamina of body. Perhaps this was the main reason why the cross country team was so small.

It was a very trying season for the boys team. The team had a great deal of talent, but the team was so small that they had to rely on individual efforts rather than a concentrated team effort. The team competed in several invitations around the county and showed steady improvement as the season progressed. Pat Castro ran some outstanding times and led his teams to a vew victories. Next year, Coach Griswold feels that the boys team will be stronger because every one of the runners will be returning.

The girls cross country team saw the year as a rebuilding one. Senior Gema Aguirre led the way for the girls as they finished fourth in The South Bay Invitational. Half the team were sophomores, so the team should be stronger next year.

Running hard, Gema Aguirre tries to pace herself to the finish.

Powering himself to the finish, Sean McNellis records another fine time.

Warming up before the meet, Maggie Barboza runs to get loosened up.

Taking Their Best Shot

Coach Peterson knew that the boys Varsity Basketball team had to be tougher than ever to enjoy a good season. With a tough schedule and a squad of untested players, their work was cut out for them. The team responded by beating highly rated Chula Vista and Hilltop twice and played other top teams tough. Coach Peterson felt that if they would have had a big man at center, they could have won a lot of the close games.

The Komets finished fifth in the tough Eastern League, by far the toughest league in the county. In any other league, the Komets would have surely made the playoffs. To illustrate this point, the team lost seven games by a total of 21 points and lost many other close games in league play.

The team's offense came from Brad Milhoan, who averaged over 18 points per game. He also led the team in assists and was second in rebounds. Senior Lionel Demorst filled in admirabley at center and was their leader on the court. Carl Jarmon and Kale Evans also gave the team some steady play and Coach Peterson singled out Marlin Christensen as the team's most improved player. Overall, Coach Peterson was proud of his players for working hard and a season well played.

Shoot For The Stars

Taking a jump shot, Cam Luu shows his form.

After three long months of endless hours in the gym — running, jumping, shooting, and more running — the junior varsity basketball team achieved its goal; the Eastern League crown. They captured the number one spot with a record of 9 wins and 1 loss. To a team with few returning players and a majority of underclassmen unfamiliar with basketball, this seemed an impossible dream. Nevertheless they did it. And not without the leadership of Coach Kane or their nucleus of stars; Cam Luu, Steve Dailey, and Kevin Archer. The team also got excellent back court play from Quaison Holt and Paul Massaro.

The teams biggest wins were over Patrick Henry and Madison. No matter how tough the opponent the team managed to pull out wins by playing together as a team. Their spirit of unity and willingness to help out a fellow teammate were the keys to a winning season. It is hoped that when this JV team moves to Varsity next year, they can continued their tradition of excellence.

Outstanding Season

Wrestling isn't a sport for everyone. It takes strength, a lot of hard work, and intelligence. The wrestlers this year were perhaps the best ever because they had all of these qualities. There was a unity and team spirit that was obvious to even a casual observer.

Their determination and long hours in the gym paid off when the majority of the team went to CIF playoffs. Joe Basham and Philip Stanfill were undefeated in league competition and were the most outstanding on the varsity squad. Next year looks especially bright since most of the team was underclassmen and the JV was full of young talent. No doubt the winning tradition set by this team will continue in the years to come.

A Rebounding Season

As the season began for the girl's basketball teams, the outlook for both of the teams were good. The varsity squad had many returning players and the junior varsity team had a lot of inexperienced but hard-working players.

The varsity team, coached by Coach Cohen, had a fine year. The girls opened the season with two impressive victories and continued to play consistent basketball throughout the season. All of the players played well and Coach Cohen were especially pleased with the play of guards Vickie Moore and Belinda Sturkey.

The girls junior varsity team didn't fare as well as the varsity girls. With ten sophomores and two juniors, inexperience got the best of them and wound up the season with a losing record. Led by Sylvia Johnson and Virginia Lasara, the team refused to give up and played with a lot of enthusiasm. With the returning players coming back next season, Coach Cohen expects the team to be stronger and a possible contender for the league title.

Building Up Steam

Girls soccer was new to Kearny this year and not many students knew it even existed. But, the girls certainly made up for that fault with excellent play and exciting action. The team was led by a small core of talented players. Only three girls had previous experience in soccer. On the forward line, Belinda Bauerle and junior Erica Rickard were the team's leading scorers. Erica scored an unprecedented four goals in the girls win over Morse. Rose Aeria, Debbie Peterson, and Pam Smith were the leaders on defense. Goalie Maria Collins was invaluable in the net for the team.

With most of the team returning next year, the soccer team's chances for another good year are excellent. Next year Kearny moves down to the always tough 2A Western League. The girls will have to work hard, but with the talent they showed this year there is no doubt that they will be winners.

Leaders Of The Pack

Excitement and action. That's what you would have seen if you had gone to any of the boy's soccer team games. The team was the best we've ever had. With Juan San Martin to score the goals and Kee Xayasomloth in the nets it was no surprise that they took the Eastern League title. The team got excellent play from midfielder Frank Killion and forwards Somnuck Nakhonthap and Amphasouk Thammavongsa.

Coaches Steve Zug and Mr. Fleming provided the boys with leadership and great plays. The entire team played well together and most players could play effectively at more than one position. This helped the team when there was injuries and sickness, which plagued the team early on.

Though the team had yet to play any playoff games when this was written there was no doubt that with the teams aggressive atitude and exceptional talent they would do well.

Strokin' It

"Bend your knees!" "Not more overheads, coach!" "Hit it from the shoulder" "Don't bend your wrist" Sound familiar? Well they would if you've ever seen one of the boy's tennis practices. One thing that can be said for Mr. Janc's practices is that they're never quiet. This year was no exception. With a majority of new players, many of them inexperienced, the team had its work cut out for them. What they lacked in talent, they made up for in determination and hours upon hours out on the hot courts learning new skills and polishing up old ones.

Junior Art DeJesus and sophomore Marcell Tongco were the top players for the boys. New men Eddie Diato and Angelito Soriano added to their lineup of talent. The rest of the team was filled by a core of hard working boys who were determined to make it to the top.

Their chances to make it to the playoffs were rather slim as a whole but you never can tell.

Art DeJesus makes a powerful backhand stroke to save the point.

Batter Up

Just trying to start a softball team was a major problem. Not enough girls wanted to put in the long hours of practice and there were rumors of dropping the team. But the girls got together and made up a Varsity squad. With returning stars Missy Darnell at short and Patty Rivas at third the chances for a good season were increased. They took on a lot of new players and most were young. Teamwork saved the day and the girls hit their stride about midseason. Sophomore Tina Young and senior Norja Whitfield were the hitting powers. Good defense was the key for the team as they entered regular season play.

Using her strong arm, Patty Rivas hurls the ball toward home.

Jaqui McClure makes a great play as she throws to home for the out.

Swingin' Stars

The baseball team was off to a running start from the very start. With a decisive win over Escondidio, the team started off on what appeared to be a highly successful season. A few of the many standouts were Mike Adams and Mark Milow who were leaders on and off the field. Chris Bwy and Brett Springer gave the team excellent glovework and consistent defense. On the mound, Jesse Park and David Portugal guided the team through many tortuous innings.

Perhaps one of the more memorable games came early on in the season when they played Oceanside in the Pirate Tournament. With the game scoreless into the fourth inning, Mark Milow slammed a three run homer to right field. The team got two more runs before taking the field. From then on, the game belonged to the Komets. The final score of 5-2 is not a true indication of the skill displayed by the entire team.

The potential for the team was great. Their chances to go all the way were great and depended only on the teams ability to play as one team rather than a group of individuals.

Springtime Heroes

Showing his form, Brian Roos prepares to take a swing at the pitch.

The junior varsity baseball team was full of promise and much was expected of them. With a majority of returning players and a lot of talent, the team hoped to do well. Returners Ty Tighe, Milton Gentry, and Paul Massaro were just a few of the more outstanding players to make the team. Newcomers Rob Skinner, Chris Ponce, and Kevin Archer were definite advantages to the team as both power-hitters and great glove handlers. New coaches Harry McLaughlin and Jack Moran inspired the team to win and gave them the desire to do their best at all times.

The boys were expected to face tough competition in the Eastern League. Perennial champions Madison and Henry were picked as the Komets chief rivals. The most important ability of the guys was to play as a team. They worked hard on all the fundamentals, plays, batting, throwing. Their hard work began to pay off in the early season as they gained more confidence in themselves and in their game. The team began to put it all together as they were entering league play in early April.

The success of the team depended on whether or not the team could hold their poise under pressure and if they could keep the winning spirit alive.

Looking into the sun, Chris Ponce tries to snag a fly ball.

Milton Gentry concentrates on the incoming pitch, hoping to get a hit.

The Making of Champions

Getting off to a great start was vital for the success of the girls track team and they did just that. Dell Hearndon broke the school record in the 220 with a time of 25.9 seconds, eclipsing the old mark of 26.3 seconds. The 880 relay team also broke the school record with a time of 1:58.2, the old record being 1:59.9.

Despite the records and the individual accomplishments, the team is young and inexperienced, but hard work and determination have enabled the girls to progress much faster than expected. Coach Cohen sees no reason why the girls can't make it to the CIF preliminaries. They have shown that they are willing to work and give it all they've got to win. It's the secret of their success.

Coming down in good form, Terry Ringgold makes an excellent jump.

In full stride, Mary Aabuego attempts to keep her lead.

Making a good start, the team looks for a successful race.

Going for distance, Pat Thiss attempts to get height on the discus.

Trying for a better jump, Lionel Demorst gives it everything he has.

Pacing himself, Jim Sapp pushes on towards another win.

Winning the short sprints, Kenny Tucker crosses the finish line with glory.

After a good hand off, Paul Newman speeds on to the finish line.

On the Right Track

Sunny days accompanied by clear skies enabled to get the boys track team off to a good start. The previous season had been hard hit by winter storms, but good weather enabled the team to get into top condition for the upcoming meets.

Track is composed of sixteen events: ten running and six field events. The team is much stronger in the running events, with standout sprinters Kenny Tucker and Paul Newman and long distance runner Pat Castro leading the way. In the field events, Pat Thiss was the best discus thrower on the squad.

Coach Griswold feels that they are a formidable opponent to any other team and can only get better as the season progresses. He is optimistic at the fact that the team will only lose eight athletes to graduation and feels that they will be vying for the championship next season.

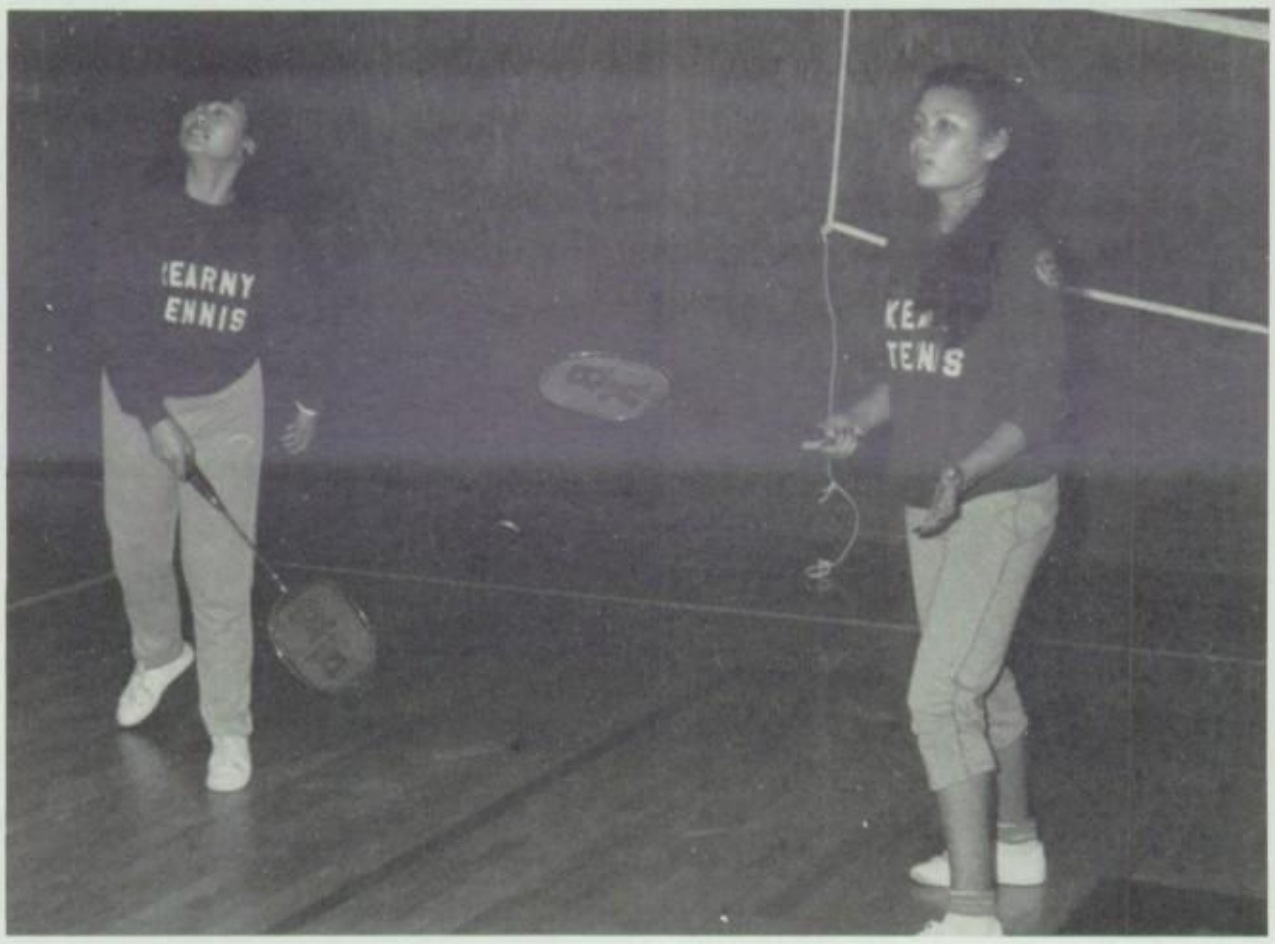
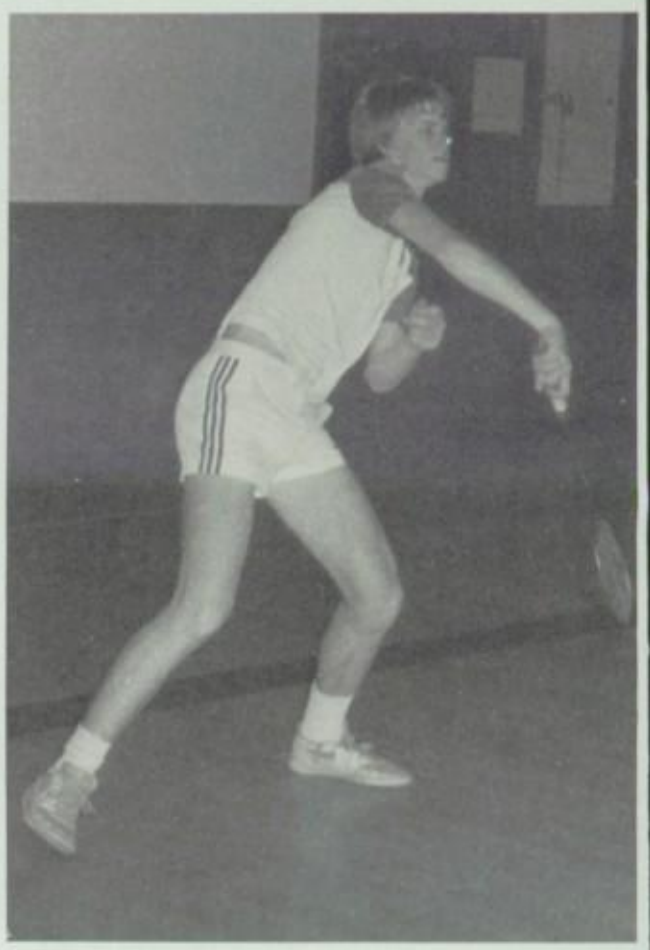
The badminton season was switched from a fall sport to a spring sport, but the change in seasons didn't have a big affect on the team. Under the guidance of new coach Richard Donscheski, the team entered the season with optimism and hopes for a playoff berth.

With returning players Rob Jenison, Diana Withrow, Debbie Peterson, and Kevin Johnson leading the play, the team had the experience and talent they needed to win some matches. The team overall had a good mixture of seniors and underclassmen as well as returning and first year players. They worked hard on their game to improve every aspect of it and showed that they had the dedication to work hard and strive for perfection.

Warming up before a match, Diana Withrow carefully hits the birdie to the other side.



With Ratsami Manaxi looking on, Bernadette Santos smashes the birdie and wins the point.



Despite a good smash from the opponent, Rob Jenison is there to make the save.

With a soft touch, Marlin Christensen guides the birdie over the net.

Sink or Swim

The success of our teams this year was due to the number of second and third swimmers whose hard work paid off as the season progressed. The leaders were the third year athletes. They are Raul Castillo, Derek Pasnak, Eric Waggoner, and captain Mike Schott. Contributing to our winning ways were second year athletes Steve Wright, Dan Nelson, Andy Hiliard, and Dean Zamora. As for the girls they were Bridget Mesker, Tami Larson, and captain Sybil Carlson.

The goals of the teams were not just to win, each individual had his or her own personal goal to accomplish. By the end of the year everyone was comfortable with their new role as an athlete and accomplished swimmer. Although this was the end of the season for most of the team it is actually a beginning of two more great teams in "85".

Underclass

Preparing for ones future is no easy problem to solve. For many juniors and sophomores, waiting to get out of high school is the only thing they worry about. What awaits them in the following years no one really knows. As they experience their last few years of school, they must realize that after this there is no more school except for those who wish to attend a college.

Preparing for future careers must start now. Juniors and sophomores should try to get the necessary courses needed for a career after their education is complete. With only one or two years left to get ready, thoughts always cross the minds of juniors and sophomores as they complete high school.

Right now the friends and good times they share are plenty to keep juniors and sophomores ready for next few years of high school.

USING THEIR LUNCHTIME to get to know each other, Pat Castro and Jon Locke listen to Jacqui McClure as she tells them more about herself.

INSTEAD OF GOING OFF CAMPUS, these students save time and money by staying here and eating their lunch here.

WAITING FOR THEIR bus to arrive, these ROP students from Mira Mesa High School relax until it's time to leave.

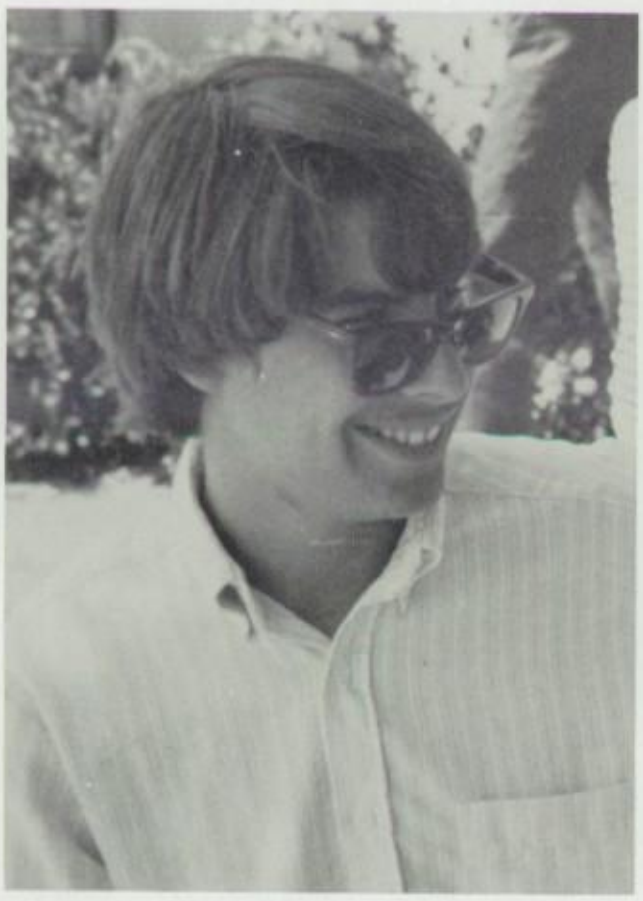
SPENDING TIME AT lunch catching up on homework due next period, Shari Blair and Suzanne Riddle hurry up and get it done.

VOTING FOR the homecoming court Vong, Mouk, and Vanery decide on who's the best choice.



Tom Perry spends good times with friends as he shows off his new shades.

WITH LESS TIME AT Lunch, catching up on the latest gossip was something of a task for Erica Rickard and Carla Wright to find out.

Treasures To Keep

Knowing that graduation was coming soon, students finally realized they would be going into this job-filled world without their close friends close by. Whether it be at lunch or in classrooms, one got the feeling of a closeness felt present.

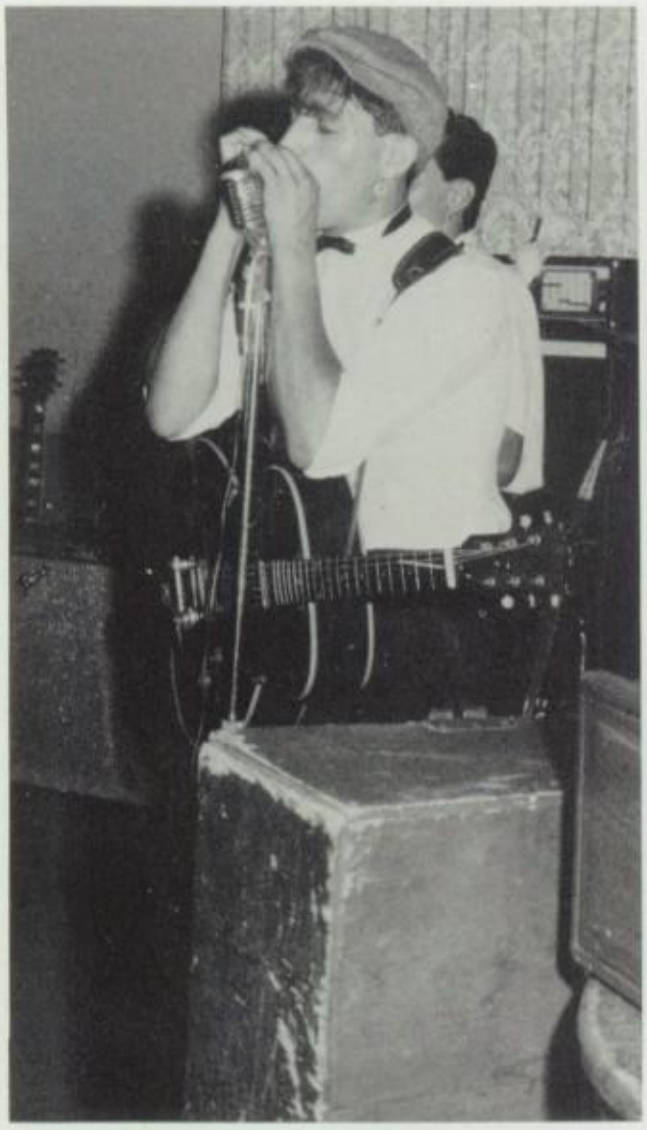
Walking down the halls, one could see students laughing and sharing good times with friends.

In the future people will look back at this book and be reminded of all the things that made their high school day so memorable.

SHOWING HER PUNK spirit, Elizabeth Riedy shares some good laughs with Joel Naughton.

ERIC MEINS takes his time to add more detail and to make sure his sign is alright for the senior mob shot.

ENTERTAINING at the Homecoming Dance, Tim Cien from N-E-1 plays his best to keep students dancing.



DURING SPIRIT WEEK lunchtime activities, students were treated to see who would stay on a thick ice.

SPIRIT will never be missed, when Seniors get a chance at showing off their mugs in the Senior Mob Shot.

AFTER A BIG first down by the football team, Lucy Rydelski, Beth Selby, Denise Madden, and Jenny Egemo cheer on our Komets to a touchdown.
